How many a Man

Tempts sickness and trouble by going without an autumn overcoat in these early fall mornings and evenings. And why? Nine times out of ten they don't care to wear anything less luxurious than a silk-lined overcoat with all the "frills of fashion" that in their minds they think will be made to order at a cost of $30, so they wait and suffer.

Now, suppose you get the overcoat you're dreaming of for

$15.

Different, eh? Well, come in and let us show you the truth of this. You're not safe without a fall overcoat—except in the middle of the day.

School Suits

May be you thought the boys' suit would go for a month or so yet, but the first week at school shows a different state of affairs.

These few dollars will buy a school suit that will stand the struggle—look plenty good enough for Sunday, too. Bring in the boys.

IT WAS UNJUST.

Criticism Regarding the Condition of Forest Hill Cemetery Are Not Justified.

In yesterday morning's News Tribune "Prominent Duluthian" indulged in several flings against Forest Hill cemetery and its management. "It is worse than an old barn yard. There is no way to get up the hill but by a rough, ungraded pathway and the whole condition of affairs is such as to reflect severely on someone," says the writer.

A Herald man drove out to the cemetery yesterday afternoon and it was very apparent that someone had worked a very deliberate lie into print, to speak plainly. It is true that the grades of the roads leading to the cemetery are in places rather steep, but when nature laid out Duluth and its environs she fixed that and it is impracticable for man to undo it in all cases. But the main road to the cemetery, while not as wide as Superior street, is ample—a good hard road, an excellent one.

Grasshoppers and the drought have formed a combination this season, bailing to all gardeners who had not an abundance of water at hand, and of course the cemetery people are as yet handicapped in that respect. In spite of these things, however, the flowers, foliage and lawn look very well and show marks of considerable attention. Mr. Brown, a cemetery and landscape gardener brought over from Glasgow, Scotland, for the purpose, says he has full charge of the cemetery and under his direction the work of improving and beautifying is making rapid progress. Though the association has no money, several men are constantly employed at clearing up the rough and overgrown places and J. D. Ray goes down in his own pocket to pay the men regularly. In fact the directors of the association are doing much more than could reasonably be expected of them.

As to the cemetery itself—its location, the lay of the ground, the view and all that goes to make attractive the last long resting place—of all the pretty sites about Duluth the very prettiest has been chosen. No criticism against the grounds or management is justified.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Three Judges Sat This Morning, Two on the Regular and One on the Special Calendar.

A Number of Indictments Brought in and Several Prisoners Arraigned and Attorneys Appointed.

Thomas Madden Brought Up for Contempt—Boyd vs. Mendenhall Case Went to the Jury Today.

The district court was running today with three judges. Judge Ensign handled the special term calendar and Judges Toliver, Kiska, Kepman, Valentine, Yenen, grand larceny first degree, I. Grattani, attorney; John Carney, grand larceny second degree, John Kutsigard, attorney; William Arceveau, grand larceny second degree, Frank Hicks, attorney; William Taggart, unlawful and wilful destruction of personal property, A. A. Harris, attorney.

The grand jury was in session this morning and was considering among others the case of Saunders, the colored man who slashed his wife with a knife and fled to Ashland. Acting County Attorney Davies said no indictments would be returned until Monday probably.

Thomas Madden was before Judge Lewis this morning on an attachment for contempt of court in not appearing before the grand jury in the case of state against J. Fowle. Judge Lewis ordered him to remain in court to await instructions of the county attorney.

The case of Charles G. Boyd against Luther Mendenhall et al. went to the jury about noon and Judge Lewis then took up the matter of the application to condemn lands, the Minnesota Canal company, petitioner, against the St. Louis River Water Power company and the Manhattan Trust company. The petitioner is first introducing testimony to show that it is necessary to take water from the St. Louis river above Cloquet, and second, that it has the right to do so, as against the objection of the St. Louis River Water Power company.

In Jacob Nyman against Minnesota Iron company it was stipulated that judgment be entered for $600 without costs. Before Judge Brown the case of the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad company against J. G. Howard et al. was given to the jury at noon. In John Malencheck against Charles McNamara the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff.

THE SPECIAL TERM.

Judge Ensign Disposed of the Calendar During the Forenoon.

Judge Ensign disposed of the special term calendar as follows; nine cases being continued:

In the matter of the assignment of Hans A. Sandwich, order to sell accounts in gross.

H. Graves et al. against E. P. Emerson, heard and submitted.

Mesaba Lumber company against P. H. McGarry et al., sale confirmed.

S. L. Merchant against Western Land association, demurrer overruled.

W. A. McGonigle against George W. Edwards et al., final decree in foreclosure entered.

F. H. Quinby et al. against J. H. Shearer et al., motion for amendment of findings granted.

Wallace S. White against Peter J. Bargestrom et al., order confirming sale.

In the matter of the estate of C. W. Howard, insolvent, agreement of settlement of certain creditors confirmed.

Thomas Hillhouse against Florence Blood et al., heard and submitted.

FATALITIES ON THE MESABA.

Three Men Who Met Accidents That Resulted Fatally.

The Virginia Enterprise says that Gus Johnson, a Swedish Finn, was run over and killed by one of the Drake-Stratton engines at the Mesaba Mountain, on Wednesday morning. Johnson was about 26 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children in the old country.

Andrew Jonkoski, who has been at work for Drake, Stratton & Co., was killed by accident in the woods west of the lake on Sunday morning. It seems Jonkoski was laying in a winter's supply of wood and had taken his shotgun with him to keep him company, and that after getting his wood loaded started to pull the gun from its resting place, the trigger catching a twig and discharging the contents into his left arm and side, causing death almost instantly.

John Laky, an employee of the Finlayson Lumber company at thermill in Virginia, was the victim of an unfortunate and fatal accident, caused purely by his own carelessness. Laky was standing between the live and dead rollers of the carrier, and was caught between two timbers, the internal injuries received proving fatal after a few hours.

$100 Reward, $100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in the last 30 years, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known. The medical fraternity, Catarrh being a constitutional disease, has been treated with many different remedies, but none have been successful. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and nervous system, and cures the disease, thereby restoring the foundation of the system, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

ADDRESSED TO VETERANS.

Comrade C. R. Louch's Words Should Be Read By Every Citizen.

SOLDIERS' HOME AT DAYTON.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 8.—The annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic that closes today, has been singularly interesting and instructive. But if one thing more than another has been talked of among the comrades who have met here after long separations, it is the appearance of health and strength of many of the boys who still carry the marks of wounds received in the service.

CHARLES R. LOUCH.

Among the brave men who served from Minnesota and who still live, none was braver than Comrade Charles R. Louch, recently an inmate at the great national soldiers' home at Dayton, Ohio.

"I served for three years," narrates Mr. Louch, "in Co. B, 8th Regt., Minn. Vols. I participated in the two campaigns of the Sioux Indians, 1862, served in Tennessee during Hood's advance on Nashville in the fall of 1864; was wounded near that city Dec. 3, 1864, and from the depths of a thankful heart, striving to find adequate expression."

"I contracted a chronic illness from exposure during confinement. My suffering was intense for over twenty years, and they were made more so by worldly advancement. The first real relief that I have experienced in all these years was from Paine's celery compound."

The following story from comrade Louch tells the story:

"Not being a physician, it would be impossible for me to give a correct diagnosis of my condition before taking Paine's celery compound. I can judge only by my feelings of relief, increase in strength, improvement in nervous force, healthful appearance of my skin, and from other things plainly apparent, that the celery compound has been of great value to me."

"It has relieved me almost entirely of painful sensations. In unfavorable weather I occasionally feel a slight twinge, so slight as to be hardly perceptible, that is all, merely a reminder. My digestion has greatly improved; the painful oppression or choking sensation yet through with our work by any means."

We have yet to take care of and provide for the heroic soldier man who was crippled while saving the life of a woman during the Virginia fire. We have taken him from under the county physician's care and have put him in charge of another doctor. His mother is here to take care of him, and we are looking after her. He is probably crippled for life, and may take for a long time to come."

We have also a woman in St. Luke's hospital who is very sick and who is under the charge of Dr. Kitchie. She has been operated on already and another operation may be necessary, and she has to be taken care of."

"If, after these cases have been provided for, the community should see fit to further assist any of the deserving poor of Virginia it may do so, but until these cases are well taken care of nothing can be done, and we do not know whether or not we have enough left to look after these sufferers. We thoroughly understand and appreciate these calamity reports and the source from which they spring, and we treat both with the consideration that they deserve. We keep well posted as to matters upon the range and will add that the affairs and records of the Mesaba range relief committee are open to the inspection of any and every one who contributed 1 cent to the relief fund."

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

"Friends" Was Received With Great Enthusiasm Last Evening.

"Friends" won a great success at the Temple last evening and the large audience that witnessed its production was more than pleased. The company was called before the curtain at the close of the third act and applause was frequently given. The play is unusual in one respect; it has touches of excellent comedy, intense pathos, thrilling melodrama, ridiculous farce and brilliant music. All are admirably blended and make the play intensely interesting.

There is a beautiful sentiment pervading the whole, the deep, self-sacrificing friendship of two friends of the Bohemian order. The lines are bright and witty and the wit is of the sharp, keen, modern sort that is breezy and catchy.

It is extremely rare that an author achieves success in a character of his own creation, yet that is what Edwin Milton Royle has done. It seems as though he had made the character, Jack Raven, out of his own abilities, yet that is not so. But whatever may have been his idea when he designed the part, he certainly fills it to perfection. His manner is easy and unassuming, his comedy is excellent and in the pathetic portions he excels, having a wonderfully sympathetic voice and manner.

Lucius Henderson makes a good lover, although a trifle too much on the heroic, demonstrative order. This can be overlooked, however, when his brilliant piano solo is heard with gusto which there would be a decided fatness in the whole performance. No ordinary pianist could fill the part. Mr. Henderson's number brought a storm of applause and an encore was necessary. His touch is exquisitely delicate and his execution superb.

E. D. Lyons gave one of the finest characterizations which has been seen here, that of Otto, the drunkard and morose enter. There is a trifle too much of it in the play and without a brilliant interpreter it would fall flat. Harry Allen as Jack Paden, Sr., and Henry Bergman as Harold Hunting were excellent and are accomplished actors.

Selena Fetter is really the star of the play and her work is all that could be desired. In the strong, heavy passages she is seen to better advantage than in the lighter ones. The climax of the second act was her best scene and her fall at the close was a remarkable one. Her gown was superb and created a sensation among the ladies. The entire cast is of a high order.

"Friends" will be repeated this evening.

Who is it pulls teeth without pain? Dr. Schiffman, In Wood-bridge block.

THEATRICAL MATTERS.

The Laughable Farce Comedy "The Hustler" Will be Presented at the Temple on Monday.

The Popular Wilbur Comic Opera Company Will Soon Open an Engagement at the Temple.

Edward Harrigan Has Revived the Old Sketch, "Dan's Tribulations," and Scored a Fine Success.

This week would have been a very interesting one theatrically had it not been for the first presentation in Duluth of Edwin Milton Royle's comedy drama, "Friends." It was put on at the Temple last night, is being given at a matinee performance this afternoon and will be seen again this evening. "The Dark Continent" was played to a fair audience on Thursday evening and while it possesses considerable originality of plot is a melodrama of a very ordinary class. Miss Myria French and supporting artists gave an excellent concert to a very poor audience on Tuesday evening.

On Monday evening next "The Hustler," the laughable farce comedy will be produced by one of the Wilbur companies. On Monday, Sept. 18, the Wilbur Opera company opens an engagement of two weeks, singing a number of the best comic operas.

"THE HUSTLER."

John Kernell Will be at the Temple on Monday Evening.

That rare combination of play, pantomime and poetry entitled "The Hustler," will appear at the Temple Monday evening, and will be seen at a matinee performance on Tuesday. The popularity of light entertainment such as is provided by this company never seems to diminish and the Wilbur companies seem to increase in popularity. It is said to possess some of the finest features and novel situations and to be interpreted by a fine company of players of the very first rank of the country. The play is claimed to be a radical departure from the conventional type of farce, comedy and melodrama. It is full of snap and go and overflows with sweet music, pretty dances and everything else that makes people laugh, applaud and call for more.

John Kernell still heads the company in the character of Con McFadden, "The Hustler." He keeps the fun and action moving at a swift pace. Ed H. Kernell fills the part of Anheuser-Busch and he and Kernell make a worthy team. Ed J. Hefferman, Gus Mills, J. F. Cook, J. E. Smith, Molly Thompson, Miss Clara Randall and others constitute the balance of the cast.

Wilbur Opera Company. On Monday evening, Sept. 18, the Wilbur Opera company opens an engagement of two weeks for weeks at a time in "Ermine." The Wilbur company is among the most popular of comic opera organizations and has been singing with great success for years. The Minneapolis Tribune says:

"The Wilburs have lost none of the drawing power that has enabled them to remain in this city for weeks at a time during previous engagements and play crowded houses, as the performances of the Grand this week have been attended by as many people as the house could well accommodate, the standing room card being exhibited at every performance given thus far."

The present company includes many of the local favorites, such as Susie Kernell, E. A. Clark, J. E. Conley and W. H. Cobble.

NEW YORK PRODUCTIONS. Harrigan's Success in a Revival of "Dan's Tribulations."

New York, Sept. 6.—Edward Harrigan has a wonderful hold upon the affections of New York theatergoers. To hear out this assertion it is only necessary to refer to the fine business which his revival of

"Dan's Tribulations" will have a "Dinner of Milk."

old sketch, "Dan's Tribulations," is coming at his pretty theater on Thirty-fourth street.

I remember "Dan's Tribulations" when it was originally produced about a decade ago at Harrigan & Hart's (then) new Theatre Comique. In its present form it is a very different and, it must be admitted, a much better play, for it has been stripped of much of its boisterousness and thoroughly up-to-date. Harrigan's work is all sketchy and in most respects faithful, but there is a lack of conscientiousness that jars upon some nerves. Still he pleases a large clientele which is not confined, as is generally supposed, to the humbler classes. At each performance of "Dan's Tribulations" there are many fine equippages in waiting outside the theater.

Harrigan's magnificent Manhattan Opera House on Thirty-fourth street, which, with the land, is said to represent an investment of $1,500,000, has passed beyond the experimental stage and is now in full blast as a concert hall. The new Koster & Blum's is modeled as closely as possible after the English music halls and seems to have met with success so far, but if rumor is to be believed within a year it will have a formidable rival, for it is said that an English syndicate owning several of the high class music halls of London will build an enormous structure in this city to which popular prices of admission will be charged.

If the proposed place of amusement shall ever materialize, it will cut a wide swath into the receipts of the halls in New York, for their prices are not by any means "popular" with a large class of persons, who like to sit down and watch a fairly good variety performance while they sip beer and other liquid refreshments and smoke more or less good cigars and cigarettes. Still there have been so many "real English music halls" produced, with nothing more tangible than the desire to build them, that it is by no means certain that the one now promised will materialize.

Lottie Collins is simply irresistible. When she danced one of her dances last year with her "Ja-za-za Boom-dee-ay," most of the audience that had seen her for the first time, but this was not to be. She is "in our midst" once more as the bright particular star of a variety company, which is the theater, and she has made almost as great a hit with her song "Miserere" and its accompanying dance as she did last year with "Ja-za-za."

Miss Collins' success in New York this time would seem to indicate that she is really a meritorious variety "artist" and not merely the accidental creation of a song which happened to become immensely popular. She is now appealing for patronage on her merits and is so disinclined to sing the city which made her famous that the other night, in response to repeated cheers and calls for it, she would only come before the curtain and warble the well known repetition in a commonplace manner.

It was reported that Miss Collins would head a company of her own in a farce comedy "Especially Written for Her," but since her arrival here nothing more has been said of this scheme—at least not for publication—and as show people are not calculated for reticence with regard to their plans when a newspaper paragraph hints to the reward it is not too much to assume that the plan has been abandoned, at least for the present. By the way, Miss Collins' younger sister, Marie, has made quite a hit as the Imperial Music Hall.

The late Marie Prescott was probably never quite so identified with but a single really great failure, and that was the one enterprise of which, strangely enough, more was expected than anything else with which she was connected in the whole course of her stage career. This megaphone failure was Oscar Wilde's "Venus," which she put on at the Union Square theater in this city with a disregard of expense seldom seen in those days and at a time, too, when the star of the musical comedy was decidedly in the ascendant.

At the first performance the theater was packed to the doors, and rival managers were quickly dispatched, however, after the curtain fell at the close of the second act, for it was then recognized by every one getting people to swallow his theories of a weak in his efforts to induce them to accept "Venus," which was a play which had failed just one consecutive week and then died of general debility, much to the regret of Miss Prescott, Mr. Wilde and the backers of the enterprise.

That "time has its revenge" has been proven in Oscar Wilde's case, for he is now not only recognized as a playwright, but is one of the few dramatists living who can sell a play as soon as he has the rough scenario ready. In addition to this very agreeable and peculiarly satisfying condition, Mr. Wilde has also the happy consciousness that he is generally regarded as the best writer of epigrams whose work finds its way to the stage. He is therefore probably not much perturbed over the fact that the stupid public once upon a time refused to believe that he was what he knew he was. Verily "times change and we change with them."

William Morris, the leading man of Charles Frohman's stock company ever since the organization of that very excellent troupe, will become a star next year, his contract with Mr. Frohman expiring in May. Mr. Morris has a play written to suit his robust and in many respects pleasing style of acting, and from an artistic standpoint he is almost certain to be successful. Naturally the thing which interests a new star even more is the pecuniary return. Numbers of excellent leading men have made ineffectual efforts to become successful stars, but Mr. Morris has begun his preparations early and in the proper manner. It is therefore possible that he may be more fortunate than some of his contemporaries.

Mr. Morris' training should have fitted him for the assumption of the responsibility and dignity of a star. His stage career began as a member of the old Boston Museum stock company. Since that time he

Miss Grace Emmett is another star for the coming season. The experience will, however, not be a new one, for she has been through "many a time." The vehicle for Miss Emmett's stellar experience is "Such Is Life," a comedy drama written by herself for the purpose of exploiting her well known abilities in the line of character acting. Miss Emmett's services have always been in demand, and yet fate has not been kind to her. She was born and educated in Buffalo, where her mother still lives.

Her first appearance on the stage was made as a member of the Academy stock company at the age of 18. Then, following her natural bent and tempted by the larger remuneration, she went into the variety business, where she remained for seven years. She started her gradual march back to the drama in a company which presented a travesty on "The Corsican Brothers." This engagement was followed by several of a similar nature, when she became a star in repertory, playing small towns only. She next was starred in "A Soap Bubble," "Beacon Lights," "Maggie's Landing," "The Sissy Queen," "A Barrel of Money," "A Mile a Minute" and other plays of that kind. She says that her preference is for work of a higher order, but that she realizes that the demand is for the sensational at present, and she therefore bows to the inevitable.

Benjamin Franklin Keith is the inventor of the idea of "continuous performances." He is about 45 years old and a native of New Hampshire. He traveled with circuses in various capacities and in that manner gained an experience that has been of great value to him.

As far back as 1880 Mr. Keith was interested in a minor capacity in a popular price venture on the east side, New York city. There he quickly foresaw the great future of low priced theatrics. Hiring a small store on Washington street, Boston, he engaged "Baby Alice," a milnet 4 1/2 months old and weighing only 12 pounds. A dime was the admission for, and with this meager foundation was laid the cornerstone of a notable success.

The "continuous performance" idea was first tried by Mr. Keith in Boston in July, 1885. From the start it was a huge success. In 1888 he leased an opera house in Providence, and a year later he built a house of not season he leased the Union Square theater in New York, and thus he now has four playhouses. For the past 14 months he has been building a fine theater in Boston, which will represent when completed an investment of over half a million dollars.

Push for Good Times!

We don't want to shout until we're out of the woods. But brisk autumn trading has begun here. We're selling a good many Fallweight Overcoats and Suits that for weight are good for more than half the days in the year. Of course we're doing it without profit; selling now at about one-half what the goods were made to sell for, and what we hope to get for the same a month later on. We rely on the level-headed men in charge of our government for a policy that will right, not endanger, the business interests of our country. Money is easier and currency getting plenty, and, in a time that is near at hand, we'll all wonder why it was that we allowed ourselves to get into the fix we're now getting out of.

UNION OF RELIGIONS

World's First Parliament of Religions Begun In the Hall of Columbus at Chicago Today.

The Immense Hall Crowded From the Platform to the Remotest Corner of the Gallery.

This Remarkable Body, Containing Delegates From Every Clime, Will Last For Seventeen Days.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—What will go down into history as the most remarkable of the great series of world's congresses that have been held in Chicago this year, and in many respects one of the most extraordinary conventions that the universe has ever seen, was inaugurated this morning in the presence of an audience that filled the Hall of Columbus from the platform to the most remote corner of the gallery and that overflowed into the spacious rotunda and out onto the wide plaza.

It was the world's first parliament of religions, a series of union meetings with the object of uniting all religion against all irreligion and of presenting to the world the substantial unity of many religions in the common aim of religious life.

NO CHANGE IS WANTED

The McKinley Law the Best the Country Ever Had For the Iron and Steel Industry.

While It Reduced the Duties on Iron and Steel, It Afforded the Industry Protection.

Vice President Wharton, of the American Iron and Steel Association, Addressed the Tariff Committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The attention of the ways and means committee today was devoted to hearing gentlemen representing iron and steel industries. Joseph Wharton, of Philadelphia, vice president of the American Iron and Steel association, introducing the subject, said that the magnitude of the industry was not always appreciated, either by its friends or enemies.

He spoke of the views of the two great political parties on the tariff and the damage caused to business generally by discussion. The McKinley law, as far as his industry was concerned, was the best the country had ever had. It had reduced the duties on iron and steel, but had afforded the industry protection. They were satisfied with it and wanted no change.

HIS INJURIES ARE SERIOUS.
The Victim of the Pabst Robbery Unable to Leave His Room.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 11.—Robert Cruschow, cashier for the Pabst Brewing company, who was robbed Thursday night of $5000 while he was at work in the company's office, is not able to appear at the office.

His head is swathed in bandages which he says cover a long cut on the top of his head, inflicted by one of the men who struck him with some blunt weapon. The police at the West Chicago Avenue station are unable to locate the burglars.

The police are satisfied that there were three men in the plot. Fifteen minutes before the robbery, Night Watchman Hallenbeck was in the office talking with the cashier who was counting the money. He saw the three men enter the office and as they took their seats on the floor and living in a pool of blood on the floor and the money gone. There were two bags of gold and silver which the robber did not take, but he studied his pockets full of bills which were piled up in packages.

ON TRIAL AGAIN.
Case of Alex. McKillop Against the Street Railway Company is On.

The case of Alexander McKillop against the Duluth Street Railway company is being tried for the second time in district court, and this trip it has fallen to the lot of Judge Brown. It is a personal damage suit peculiar from the surrounding circumstances and the double injury sustained.

McKillop was driving across one of the bridges between Duluth and West Duluth. By reason of the elevation of the rail, he alleges, he was thrown from the wagon, striking his head a hard blow. He sprang up and endeavored to stop his frightened horses. The confusion he had sustained was too much for him, however, and he lost consciousness and fell across the rails. Along came a car and he was run over and his left leg crushed so badly that amputation was necessary. The case will take all of today and probably tomorrow as well.

Judge Lewis is engaged today on the case of H. C. Frink against Samuel Nauman et al. Defendants had a grading contract and arranged with plaintiff to board their workmen. Frink says they did not produce as many men as they agreed to, wherefore he lost money and now asks damages.

Matters have been disposed of in district court as follows: Charles C. Boyd against Lather Mendall et al, verdict for defendant. Kanawha National bank against Wm. McKillop, continued.

German American National bank of Little Falls, Minn., against N. F. Johnson et al, dismissed on stipulation. The following setting of cases has been made: Monday—74, 81, 82, 84, 86, 96, 99, 100, 101, 106.

TO CLEAN OUT THE SCHOOL.
A Crazy Woman Made a Commotion at the Park Point School.

This afternoon, Mrs. McDonald entered the Park Point school with blood in her eye and a knife in her hand. She seemed to be crazy or frenzied with anger about something, and was prepared to clean out the temple of learning.

The janitor appeared on the scene about then and prepared to defend the frail school ma'am and their tender lambs. He grabbed the woman and as a result he was bitten on the one hand, cut on the other and received several severe scratches before he could remove his assailant.

The police took the woman to the central station and the janitor proceeded to hunt up the authorities and file a complaint. The excitement ran so high at the school that the teachers dismissed the pupils and closed the day's session.

THE HERALD'S EXCURSION.

They made a merry crowd and it came back with the same enthusiasm with which they left today, some interesting narratives of the trip will be the result.

Yesterday Phil H. Noel, of Chicago, district passenger agent for the Wisconsin Central lines, came up, and today escorted this party of excursionists to its destination.

The Council Meeting.
The council meets this evening. As near as could be learned around the city hall this morning there is but little business to be transacted and none of that unusually important or interesting.

The prospects for a lively session are poor. Of course, it is not impossible that the city fathers may get into one of their lively frolics. Time will tell.

A REVOLTING CRIME

The Little Town of Floodwood Greatly Excited Over a Horrible Case of Rape Occurring There.

The Particulars Are Revolting in the Extreme and the Villain Deserves to Be Lynched.

He Escaped, But Deputy Sheriff Ross Captured Him After a Week's Hard Chase.

The little village of Floodwood on the morning of Sept. 2 was cast into a fever of excitement by the news of a brutal crime committed in the night.

John Looma, a Finnlander, lives with his family about fifteen miles from town. On Sept. 1 he was working at Floodwood driving cedar. In his employ and living on Looma's farm was one Henry Paulson.

About midnight Mrs. Looma was awakened by some one entering her room. She saw it was Paulson and almost immediately his intention became horribly apparent. Despite her frantic struggles Paulson stifled her outcries and accomplished his brutal purpose. This too, while Vincent's and now the news of the rape by her side and her little son, 9 years old, was but a few feet away in his trundle bed too frightened to even speak.

Paulson fled immediately and no trace of him could be found by the indignant citizens of Floodwood. Mrs. Looma's mind was untroubled by the terrible ordeal through which she had passed and for a week it was thought she would lose her reason entirely. But she is now better and on the road to complete recovery.

For some reason the crime was not reported to the sheriff until Saturday. On that day J. W. Shellenberger, agent of the Duluth & Winnipeg at Floodwood, was in the city and gave a statement of the case and a description of the man. Sheriff Sharpy turned the matter over to Deputy Sheriff Ross, of Virginia, but no one had much hope that the rascal would be caught as the trail was eight days old.

Mr. Ross went to work with a will, however, and fortune favored him. Yesterday he found his man at a lumber camp fifteen or twenty miles from the river in company with a number of other criminals. Paulson was put under arrest, brought to Duluth and lodged in the county jail.

ANOTHER MILL BURNED.
Cranberry Lumber Company's Mill Destroyed by Fire.

Lumbermen have a sort of superstition that mill fires come in "threes," that is, that if one burns two more will.

As proven true in the Duluth district, Cranberry and Brewer's went, then Hubbard Vincent's and now the Cranberry Lumber company's mill at Cranberry river on the south shore has gone up in smoke.

It burned last Friday morning at 10 o'clock but the news did not reach Duluth until this morning. The fire was first discovered by Engineer George E. Parker, who occupies a room of the engine room. He was almost sufficed, threw his trunk out of the window and jumped after it. It will now be necessary to breathe he attempted to go back and get his clothes but the floor was at that time falling down.

By this time the men were around and went to work with a will. The dock and about 1,000,000 feet of lumber were saved. The round house containing two locomotives and the blacksmith shop about 250 feet distant were also untouched by the flames.

The mill is what is known as a single rotary, having one circular saw and the value at $500, with insurance of $300. It was at present sawing an order of timber for the government piers at the Superior entry. It will now be necessary to tow the logs to Duluth and saw them at the R. A. Gray mill on Rice's point.

Engineer Parker was lucky to get out with his life, and in fact did get his hair singed. When he recovered the remnants of his clothes he found his watch a disfigured mottled piece of metal. Three silver dollars and his trousers pockets were melted together and some paper money was destroyed.

The company has not decided whether to rebuild or not and probably will not return any decision before G. W. Stevens returns from the East.

ADDRESSED BY C. A. LONG.
An Eloquent Literary Effort Made Recently at Waukesha.

The Waukesha, Wis., Dispatch, of August 31 contains a full report of an eloquent address delivered by Hon. C. A. Long, of Duluth, to the inmates of the Industrial school in that city. The dispatch says: "As a literary effort it ranks with the best, and is worthy of a place in any scrap book." In the course of his address, Mr. Long said:

"Now I don't talk to you boys because I am one white better than you are. I believe I am as bad if not worse than any one who hears me, for I know I have had better opportunities than most of you, and know better from my babyhood than to yield to temptation. My worse self has been continually at war with my better self and the victory was not always with the right. I am today over on your hill at the other reform school for grown up boys."

Commencing Tomorrow Morning

We will give the public one more chance to secure Crockery and Glassware at half price, which will positively be your last opportunity. Do not let it pass.

A Half Price Sale, to the Merchant, is Not a Paying Venture;

But, on the Contrary, it is a Losing One.

The only advantage it affords to the merchant, especially the one who has placed heavy import orders early in January and February with the expectation of a good year's business, is the chance to dispose of the old stock, thus enabling him to open up with entirely new goods for the Fall and Holiday trade. Our import lines are arriving daily; in fact, our store-room is now completely filled with goods which we are waiting to unpack. This sale will give us room in our store for the new goods. It will give you one last grand chance to secure Crockery at half price. Take advantage of it.

L. B. Weber &amp; Co., Duluth's Big Crockery Store.

Vessel Hands Quarrel.

The propeller Alex Nimick left Duluth about 10 o'clock Saturday afternoon but returned within an hour and called for an ambulance. Fireman John Hammond and the watchman had had an altercation and finally the watchman threw a baying pin into the hold where Hammond was, striking him in the back. Hammond was conveyed to St. Mary's hospital where he is resting very comfortably. One limb was broken and he was bruised considerably.

The watchman—whose name could not be learned—is said to have jumped from the vessel just as she touched the dock. At any rate he has not been arrested.

Sold only in quart bottles for $1, while cheap wine is sold by the gallon and gives a larger profit to the seller, but less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure and has the age without which no wine is fit to use. Be sure you get Royal Ruby; $1 in quart bottles only. Sold by S. F. Boyce, druggist.

"Useful Information"

Is a heading much resorted to by "retired physicians" and people whose "sands of life have nearly run out." The publishers of our standard dictionaries or encyclopedias tell the pure truth when they offer their works as "mines of useful information;" and in the same class are reliable and first class railroads like the Burlington route. When this road offers to give you, free of charge, "useful information" about ways and means of safe, swift and comfortable railway travel you may place entire confidence in what is told you. They have no disposition to deceive you, and if they had are too shrewd not to know that "honesty is the best policy." Therefore, before taking a trip anywhere, write to V. J. C. Keayon, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn., and learn what are the advantages of "The Burlington" as a route.

$8.50 to Chicago.

Commencing August 1st the St. Paul & Duluth railroad will send one-way tickets to Chicago at $8.50. Round trip, $15.55.

These tickets are good on any train and are also good for sleeping and parlor cars and choice of six routes.

THE NEW IRON ORE COMBINE.

A Rapid Revolution in the Ore Business is Certain.

The Iron Trade Review comments as follows on the consolidation of the mining properties on the Mesaba and elsewhere:

"What this great organization will do in revolutionizing ore mining, or transport and ore selling is a question of deep import to old range interests. That a rapid revolution in the iron ore business will be witnessed in another twelve months, is certain. The new company will be represented in Cleveland, but it is plain that with the means at its command and the magnitude of its operations the function of the sales agent, hitherto in financing for the mining company will largely be done away with. While the syndicate will mine and transport ore at the lowest figure possible, and will have all the advantages of the steam shovel method and the pick of the Desmoines properties on the new range, it is in the hands of men who are in the business for profit. Yet it need hardly be said that the remoter phases of the evolution will be cheaper pig iron and cheaper steel."

Nine times out of ten they don't care to wear anything less luxurious than a silk-lined overcoat with all the "frills of fashion" that in their minds they think will have to be made to order at a cost of $30, so they wait and suffer.

THE FULL DECISION

Commissioner Lamoreux's Ruling in the Section Thirty Case Received at the Land Office.

A Complete Synopsis of All Points Involved and the Claims of the Different Contestants.

The Decision is Long and Exhaustive and Reviews the Case in a Complete Manner.

The decision of the general land department in the famous section 30 case was received at the local United States land office this morning. The document is a voluminous one of thirty-six closely written pages. The title of the case reads: Angus McDonald, Thomas W. Hyde, Daniel C. Sullivan, Carroll M. Mauseau, William Alden, Houghton E. James, Reuben E. Lawrence, William M. Stokes, W. W. Billson, Thomas J. Monahan, Charles P. Wheeler, Charles P. Wheeler, attorney in fact, vs. Emil Hartmann and David Moyer and the heirs and legal representatives of said Moyer, involving lots 3, 5 and 6 and so 1/4 of nw 1/4 and nw 1/4 of section 30, township 3 north, range 11 west.

Commissioner Lamoreux starts out with the following information: The premises in controversy were formerly covered by certain Sioux half-breed scrip locations standing in the name of Orville Strain, which locations, as the result of conflict with pre-emption claims, asserted by Thomas Hyde and Angus McDonald, were decided invalid by Secretary Vilas on February 18, 1889, when decision was, upon motion for review, reaffirmed by Secretary Noble, January 28, 1891.

The commissioner then narrates in review the events following the receipt of Secretary Noble's decision and the fact that the local officials decided that the application of Emil Hartmann, out of at least eleven all told, was entitled to six forty-acre tracts, under his Valentine scrip, Porterfield warrant and soldiers' additional certificate, and that David Moyer was entitled to an entry for the remaining two forty-acre tracts under a soldiers' additional certificate application.

Still, still other applications were filed subsequent days. The decision by the local officers in favor of Hartmann and Moyer was followed by numerous appeals. Prior to the consideration of any of those appeals, motions for a review of Secretary Vilas' decision was filed by the parties claiming under the Sioux half-breed scrip, as well as the asserted pre-emption rights of Hyde and McDonald. Those motions superceded all proceedings looking to the disposal of the land before the disposal of the motions. Pending such motions, however, a patent was inadvertently issued for three forty-acre tracts under the soldiers' additional certificate entry in the name of Thomas Reed, being one of the applications tendered by Hartmann.

That patent has been declared void by the United States circuit courts for the district of Minnesota. Secretary Noble allowed the motion for review and a hearing was ordered to be held for the purpose of determining the rights of the parties claiming under proceedings instituted subsequent to action of Secretary Vilas, Feb. 18, 1889. The decision was given May 14, 1890. In respect to the first of these claims, "it is sufficient to state, and I so find, that their claims in this regard have been definitely and finally decided against them by both Secretaries Vilas and Noble and are hence res adjudicata. This claim set up for them in this regard was upon a material issue in the original proceeding upon which the Sioux half-breed scrip locations were cancelled. In that proceeding the pre-emption title was set up and relied upon as a valid defense under the scrip locations, and the decision was against the validity of such pre-emption claims as well as the validity of the scrip title. This is apparent from mere inspection of the two decisions in question. Without attempting to discuss the voluminous testimony filed it is sufficient to say that I am satisfied of the existence of an illegal and prohibited contract in respect to the lands claimed by the parties under the pre-emption law. I find that the pre-emption claims of these parties were not initiated in good faith, but were established under a written contract, under which, the title to be procured, would inure, in part at least, to others than the claimants. I hence hold that the claims of these parties, presented under the pre-emption law are invalid and must be denied.

"As to the claim that these parties are entitled to exercise a preference right of entry under the act of May 14, 1880, careful examination satisfies me that this claim is likewise without merit. This statute is one of forfeiture. It is entirely clear that the fruits of a cancellation cannot be earned unless the proceeding under which they are claimed, is one arising under this particular act and initiated and concluded according to its provisions. I am of the opinion that the original case decided by the secretary was not a proceeding under this act but instead was the ordinary and usual contested case between two different claimants asserting conflicting title. The preference also did not inure because the parties divided up the costs, whereas, under the statute, McDonald and Hyde would have paid them. It is clear that no preference right could accrue to them, but further it has been repeatedly decided that a contest does not confer a preference right if the same is speculative or fraudulent. I find the proceeding against the Sioux half-breed scrip locations and the cancellation of the same to be speculative and fraudulent. I am accordingly of the opinion that this application of the parties is illegal and invalid, and have been legally used by the parties for want of proper parties."

"The result of the foregoing findings is to reject the claims of Thomas W. Hyde and Angus McDonald; of Daniel C. Sullivan and Carroll M. Mauseau; of Reuben E. Lawrence and William M. Stokes; and of Emil Hartmann to any portion of the premises in dispute, at the same time holding the then scrip locations of the last named (Hartmann) for cancellation; to reverse the decision of the local officers, pending the motion for review of Vilas' original decision in the half-breed scrip cases; applications were filed by both W. W. Billson and J. Monahan for leave to contest these two forty-acre tracts of record, they alleging that Moyer was deceased and that the entry standing in his name was invalid and should be cancelled.

From the record of the case at bar it is clear that neither Billson nor Monahan offered any testimony at all, but by attorney presented and filed, under objections by Wheeler, sundry exhibits tending to show that Moyer died June 8, 1888. Application to take testimony based on affidavit of attorney was also filed, which in like manner was objected to as irregular. "From this state of fact, I am of the opinion that the failure of these applicants to present their testimony as directed, leaves their case virtually where it was before," says the commissioner. "It is clear that as yet there has been no hearing of the matter alleged nor has there been anything presented in a manner that the defendant can be required to reply under the rules of practice. This leaves the Billson's and Monahan's applications to contest as pending and subject to future consideration upon the taking of the testimony in the present case. Should this decision become final it is understood that Moyer's entry will be made to cover the land originally applied for by Feb. 22, 1889, as shown in his homestead application.

locations as private cash entries and numbered them as such, but annotating across the face of the two cash entry certificates the fact that the land was purchased with the scrip in question. The commissioner further goes into the history of the scrip, tells how it got back into Gilman's hands, and quotes a little law and then says: "From this presentation of this feature of the case, and the facts are not contradicted, it would seem that Hartmann, the present assignee, has presented as a tender with his application to locate the same, the two pieces of scrip that have been already presented and have been legally used by the parties for want of proper parties."

QUARTER OF A MILLION STOLEN.

The Greatest Train Robbery of the Age Was Boldly Perpetrated at an Early Hour This Morning at Kessler, Indiana, Which Is Situated One Hundred and Fifty Miles From Chicago.

Twenty or Twenty-five Masked Men Held Up the Eastbound Express Train of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Road, Blew Open the Express Car and Stolen About $250,000 in Gold.

The Engineer Made a Desperate Resistance, Knocking One of the Desperadoes Out of the Cab But Another Outlaw Shot Him in the Side and Inflicted a Very Serious Wound.

Having Blown Open the Express Car With Dynamite the Robbers Drilled the Safe, Keeping the Half Senseless Messengers Covered With Winchester, and Rifled It of All Its Valuable Contents.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Lake Shore & Michigan Southern passenger train No. 12, east bound, was held up at 3 o'clock this morning by twenty masked robbers at Kessler, Ind., a small station 150 miles east of this city, the engineer shot and the safe of the United States Express company blown open and robbed, it is said, of $250,000 in gold being shipped east by a Chicago bank. A few rods west of Kessler the engineer, J. Knapp, discovered a switch open and put on the brakes to save the train from destruction.

The train had hardly come to a standstill when a horde of robbers, armed to the teeth and masked, made a rush for the express car. They had come prepared for action. The engineer divined the motive, and grasping his coil pick in his hands, made a desperate resistance. One of the robbers was struck down and fell off the engine without a groan. Another came over the tender and leveling his revolver, by the dim light, shot the brave engineer in the chest, seriously wounding him. The fireman saw a chance to make his escape, and jumping through the cab window ran for his life.

Meanwhile the sudden stopping aroused the train crew, and they peered out in the darkness to be met with a shower of bullets. The robbers worked quickly. While some were subduing the engineer and trainmen, others produced dynamite and blew open the door of the express car where they expected to secure the valuable booty. The doors were shattered. The awful blast shook the whole train. The express messengers were terrified. The report which reached Chicago at 4 o'clock this morning says they were soon overpowered by the robbers.

The safe was next attacked, and it was but short work for the desperate villains to blow it open with dynamite and to lay the contents, and then they hastily made their escape into the darkness. The passengers wisely kept themselves out of danger. When the trainmen became assured that all danger was passed, they crawled out and took an inventory of the damage.

A consultation was held, and with the conductor at the throttle and the wounded engineer in a coach, they pulled into Kendallville, a distance of only a few miles. After the engineer had received medical attendance and a posse had been sent in search of the bandits orders were sent for another engineer and fireman.

Willard Hooley, who was stealing a ride on the front end of the baggage car and saw all without being seen, said he counted in all twenty masked men and that they completely surrounded the train with drawn revolvers.

The United States Express company officials received their first news of the robbery from the Lake Shore officials, General Manager Wygant at once hurried to the depot, and after a hasty consultation with the railroad men was driven to the central station. It was decided to take immediate steps to capture the bold robbers, and a 5 o'clock special train was made up. Before it was ready a number of the express company's best and oldest detectives, several Pinkerton men and a squad of city Vidocqs were ready to proceed on the man hunt. Thirty minutes later the train pulled out from under the depot sheds, and with a clear track it started for the scene of the boldest robbery of this age.

THE STORY OF THE ROBBERY.

A Pullman Porter and Passengers Tell How the Deed Was Done.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—An excited crowd of several hundred people was at the Union depot when Lake Shore train No. 14 pulled in at 9:15, an hour late, this morning. The gateman had trouble in keeping them off the track when the engine ceased puffing, and the long line of mail, express and sleeping cars came to a stop. The train was crowded with passengers and they all seemed relieved when they were safely on the depot platform.

C. H. Wood, a porter on the sleeping car Riga, was singled out by a United Press man, and he told an intelligent and interesting story: "I saw the whole thing," said Wood, "and I don't mind saying that I was pretty badly scared. We were running at a pretty lively rate of speed near Kendallville, when the train came to a sudden stop. I was in the vestibule at the time, and I immediately opened the door and looked out. I have made the run hundreds of times and never knew the train to stop at that point before, so you can imagine my surprise. Before the train came to a full stop the conductor rushed up to me and said in an undertone: 'Lower your lights a little and don't make any noise, the train is held up and the devil is to pay. Don't alarm the passengers and keep the doors locked and we may be able to keep them out of this part of the train.'"

"He had scarcely stopped speaking when there were half a dozen pistol shots, followed a few moments later by two explosions. I afterwards learned that the safe had been blown. There must have been at least twenty-five of the men, and they took complete possession of the train. We could hear them running over the top of the train and listening past the windows. I tried my best to keep the people in their berths, but the news soon spread and every one, men and women, were rubbing about hiding their valuables and losing their heads. There was not a shooting iron in our car, and if any of the robbers had got in we would have been completely at their mercy. An elderly lady in the Riga, by the name of Thompson, faintly said: 'C. H. Green, of Pittsburg, was one of the passengers in the front coach, just back of the mail and express cars. He verified Porter Wood's story regarding the number of the robbers. 'It was one of the most exciting times I ever experienced,' he said. 'It came so suddenly that we could scarcely realize what was happening until we heard the shots. The trainmen all behaved splendidly and did everything possible to quiet the passengers. As soon as the train stopped one of the brakemen jumped from the train and hurried back through the dark to 'torpedo' the track for the next train. Several shots were fired at him, but as far as I could learn he was not hurt. The robbers were in such numbers that armed resistance on one part of either the passengers or trainmen was impossible, even had we been armed.'"

Milton M. Weiss, the express messenger who was in charge of the car at the time of the attack, said: "The first I knew of the attack was after the train had stopped, when I heard two shots on the outside fired in rapid succession. My helper, B. B. Hamlin, then yelled to me that one of the shots came through the door. It came near hitting him. A moment later the car was almost lifted from the track by a terrible explosion, and at the same time both Hamlin and myself were knocked violently to the floor on our backs. I was stunned for the moment and could scarcely realize what had happened."

"When I had regained my senses, I found myself under a large heap of baggage and shattered woodwork, and two men wearing masks stood close by, one having a Winchester rifle aimed at my head, and the other fellow covering my helper in a similar manner. One of the men spoke, telling us not to move or they would blow the brains out of us. That is about all I remember of what was said. There was not much talking done. One of the robbers at once proceeded to drill the safe. It took him over half an hour to do the job."

"During the time that the fellow was working at the safe, there were several of his pals outside, at the door of the car, also armed with Winchester. Some of them kept their guns pointed at us, while others kept shooting occasionally. When the safe was finally burst open, the robber at once began rifling it of its contents and carrying the packages of money to the door, where he handed it out to his pals."

"No help arrived on the scene until the robbers had made their escape. I could not see whether they had horses or not, but I suppose they did. The explosion that knocked us down blew the door off the car and would have undoubtedly killed us, only for all the baggage and cases which were piled up just inside. As it was we were knocked down very heavily and I can scarcely hear now. The robbers used dynamite in forcing the door. They fastened it in some way on a board and, nailing the board to the door, exploded it. The glass was broken in all the windows of the car, and you can see for yourself what a hole it blew in the floor under the door. One side of the express car was badly shattered by the force of the explosion. The bottom of the floor was splintered as if it had been pounded upon with a heavy battering ram, and the doors were badly shattered. When the train first came to a halt, the baggageman stuck his head out of his car and a shot from the gun of one of the robbers grazed his cheek, the bullet burying itself in the frame of the door. Before the train reached Cleveland, the bullet was dug out by a curious passenger and the hole it left was partially filled with putty."

Weiss declined to give any information as to the amount taken by the robbers, saying that he would leave that for the company to do. Weiss was taken to the company's office to make a report on the matter.

The Amount is Larger.
ALBION, Ind., Sept. 12.—The bandits who dynamited and robbed the Lake Shore express succeeded in getting about $300,000 of a consignment that was being shipped from Chicago. At 4 o'clock this morning a telegram was sent to Sheriff Shauk at this place requesting him to report immediately with an armed posse and capture the robbers. He is hot in pursuit of the thieves. The men who did the work are members of a well organized gang and have confederates throughout this section.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND.
That Many Dollars Were Captured By the Robbers.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The United States express safe in the train held up and dynamited by robbers on the Lake Shore road early this morning is believed to have contained nearly $300,000, including a shipment of $250,000 from Chicago to a New York bank. The express officials in this city are making every effort to conceal the facts in regard to the robbery and manifest the most profound ignorance.

B. B. Hamlin, the assistant of Messenger Weiss, returned to this city this morning and made a report to General Manager Crosby, but he reports he did not know anything about the true financial loss.

BAD FIRE AT PULLMAN.
Twenty Acres Covered With Lumber Were Burned Over.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A disastrous fire swept over the lumber yards of the Pullman Palace Car company, in the town of Pullman last night, and before it was brought under control at 1 o'clock this morning had done damage to the extent of a quarter of a million dollars. Almost twenty acres are included in the burnt district, and the amount of lumber destroyed was between 10,000,000 and 10,000,000 square feet. The fire started in a dry kiln from an overheated steam pipe. It was stopped just at the doors of at least three of the large department buildings.

THEY ARE NOW AT THE FAIR.
The Herald's Excursionists Reached the White City in Safety.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—[Special to the Herald].—The Herald's excursionists arrived at 10:30 this morning. These cars were detached and taken immediately via the Pennsylvania line to Grand Crossings and the Calumet hotel, where breakfast was waiting. All were on the fair grounds by noon.

CARLETON, Minn., Sept. 12.—Myrtle Graham, wife of Thomas Graham, editor of the Cloquet Pine Knot, shot herself with a revolver yesterday morning at Thomson. The ball passed through her left breast, lung and shoulder. She cannot live and gives no cause for the deed.

Dean Hodgson Dead.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 12.—The Rev. Telfair Hodgson, dean of the theological department of the University of the South, died suddenly at Sewan, Tenn., at 10:30 yesterday morning. He was 53 years old and a native of Virginia. The body will be taken to Richmond, Va., for burial.

Is Weeks Under Arrest?

Weeks, the New York embezzler, who is reported to have been arrested in Costa Rica at the instance of the United States minister.

THE CAMPAIGN OPEN.

Akron, Ohio, Was the Scene of a Great Gathering Today When Governor McKinley Spoke.

He Declares That the Two Economic Systems Are Again on Trial in Ohio This Year.

Rests His Appeal Upon the Principles and Policies for Which the Republican Party Stands.

AKRON, O., Sept. 12.—Every building of any size in Akron had its red, white and blue streamers this morning. All business places and many residences had their quota of flags, and every street corner and vacant lot about the center of town contained its mushroom lunch stand. Tents of all sizes, shapes and colors held squatter sovereignty along the principal business thoroughfares. Many of them were put up and occupied by churches and benevolent organizations, anxious to turn a penny by the hunger of thousands who expect to help the Republicans of Akron to celebrate McKinley day, the opening of the governor's campaign in Ohio.

Governor McKinley arrived at 11:15 and was greeted with the governor's salute of nineteen guns and a multitude of people. He was escorted to the Emory hotel by the reception committee. The after-dinner ceremonies began with a parade which, though purely political, was a stupendous affair in numbers. Col. A. L. Conger, famous in national politics, was grand marshal of the day. There were five divisions, each one commanded by an ex-officer of the Union army.

Governor McKinley passed the several divisions as they arranged for review and then took his place in the first division, leading the way to Grace park, where thousands had gathered to hear the speech. At 2:30 p. m. the ceremonies began. President Crouse called the meeting to order and made a short speech of congratulation. The Columbus Glee club then sang: "After the Fall," a parody on "After the Ball," and which blamed financial depression on the election of Cleveland. After prayer by Rev. J. C. Kaufman, Governor McKinley was presented and spoke substantially as follows:

After a few compliments to Akron, the governor said: "We meet in political discussion for the first time since the overwhelming defeat of 1892. We meet with deep concern and in changed conditions from those happily existing when we last assembled. The business condition of the country has created just alarm among our people, and is so grave that the president of the United States has convened congress in extraordinary session with a view of securing prompt relief. This business condition calls for sober reflection and demands of all of us the most careful judgment as well as the exercise of highest patriotism. Whatever comes or goes, we are all for our country. Having settled that much, we can dispassionately discuss what will best return it to the magnificent prosperity which it has so recently lost."

"If, as party individuals, any have been wrong on public questions, they should want to get right, and now is the time to do it. If they have been committed to a policy which experience or observation has demonstrated as unwise and unfriendly to the highest prosperity of the country, they should abandon it at once. This is no time for theorizing. Practical statescraft is the supreme duty of the hour."

"The purchase by the government of $500,000 ounces of silver every month under the Sherman law, so-called, and the issuance in payment thereof of treasury notes in the sum of the value of the silver thus bought, is believed in the great financial centers to be the cause which, if not wholly responsible for the present situation, has contributed thereto. The president shares in this general belief most fully. Senator Sherman, who was a member of the conference committee in the Fifty-first congress, which agreed to the act of July 14, 1890, (the silver purchase law) has announced his belief that the purchasing clause of that law should be repealed, and last year, before the inauguration of President Cleveland introduced in the senate a bill to repeal it."

"It is fair to assume, therefore, that whatever the so-called Sherman law has to do with the present condition of our finances, it must now go, unless Mr. Cleveland's party in the senate prevent it. The great majority of Republicans in congress are openly committed to its repeal. On the subject of money the Republican party stands where it has always stood. In the language of the Ohio platform this year: 'We favor honest money, composed of gold, silver and paper, maintained at equal value and under national and not state regulation.'"

"With confidence in the future once restored, with an abandonment of the declared purpose to introduce a revenue tariff policy in this country, with a resolution adopted by congress announcing a policy which shall be genuinely American, confidence will come back, and a vast sum of money will find its way into the banks and in due course into the channels of trade. The suggestion for state bank money coming from any quarters, should be promptly rejected, and the party proposing it should be deprived of the power to promote such a scheme."

"The president in his recent message makes a significant and, for him, somewhat surprising statement. He says: 'It may be true that the embarrassment from which the business of the country is suffering arises as much from evils apprehended as from those actually existing.' I believe that in this sentence the president has uttered a great truth, one which will find in the mind of every thoughtful man a quick and approving response. Whatever other things may have contributed to our present condition."

TO REPORT CHINESE.

The Carrying Out of the Geary Law Is Made Difficult By Several More Complications.

Granting of Separate Trials for Each Chinaman Is Likely to Render the Law Inoperative.

A Chinese Druggist, Who Has Lived in San Francisco for Forty Years, Returning to China.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Matters relating to the Geary law are more complicated here than ever. Yesterday Judge McKenna and Morrow in the United States circuit court rendered a decision in the case of Jim Lee and three other Chinese for whose arrest warrants were asked. The court ruled that the United States district attorney had conceded the right of judges to issue such warrants on the complaint of citizens.

It was ordered that warrants be issued as prayed and that each Chinese be given a separate trial. The last clause is regarded by many as practically rendering the law inoperative. Five Chinese brought here from Los Angeles were to have been deported today, but their attorneys, having been denied writs of habeas corpus, took an appeal from the order, thus securing a stay of proceedings.

Huo Shoo, a Chinese druggist of this city, who located here in 1849, leaves for China on the next steamer with his son and daughter. Both his children were married and had children of their own in this city.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY.

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nervous system which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nervous system which governs the organs with nerve fluid force. This is the cause of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nervous system is like a telegraphic system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut.

The little nervous system which governs the body, while those are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the brain to the organs, every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to understand this fact; instead of treating the nervous system for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. R. C., the highly celebrated nerve specialist, is a student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the subject. He has reduced the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve Tonic is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manifest, turning the remedy simply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic is a remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, dizziness, dizziness, hysterical, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a cash basis. The present direct by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. Restorative Nerve Tonic positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

A STRIKE UNAVOIDABLE.

A Cut in the Wages of Trainmen That is Causing Trouble.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—A strike of gigantic proportions on the Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis & Chicago railroad system now seems unavoidable. About two weeks ago President M. E. Ingalls, of that company, ordered a cut in the wages of the trainmen, 350 in number. This reduction will be met by stubborn resistance by the trainmen, who emphatically declare that they will fight Ingalls' order to the point of a general strike if such action becomes necessary.

The strongest evidence of their sentiment against the reduction is the thorough organization of the trainmen into a confederation which was secretly effected at Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 5. At that meeting every man was represented in person or by proxy and there was not one dissenting vote against its formation. The grievance committee, fifty-eight in number, is now here and will submit an ultimatum to President Ingalls today refusing positively to accept the cut.

The nine lodges of the Amalgamated association will immediately hold a mass meeting and call the national officers from Pittsburgh. Many of the union workmen are now at Covington and Newport, Ky. They will be called home immediately. Excitement is high. Other union institutions threaten to go non-union. About 1500 men will remain against the different companies' action.

MONEY EASY IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Money is easy to stock exchange borrowers at 3/64 per cent on call. Time money can be had at 6 per cent for four to six months on stock exchange collateral. The custom house has resumed taking certified checks on clearing house banks in payment of duties.

This is due to the fact that the banks now have a balance in excess of legal requirements. The league committee of the clearing house retired $305,000 certificates yesterday morning, leaving the total outstanding $37,135,000.

THE GRAIN INTEREST.

Duluth and Minneapolis Handled Last Year the Largest Crop on Record in the Northwest.

The Demand From Local Mills for Grain for Grinding Was the Most Notable Feature.

Expected the Milling Demand This Year Will Exceed Duluth's Total Receipts Prior to 1891.

A correspondent of Bradstreet's writes that the Northwestern wheat crop year which ended with August, 1893, saw harvested and marketed at the two primary markets, Minneapolis and Duluth, the largest crop on record. It is estimated that the wheat raised in Minnesota and the Dakotas amounted to 137,000,000 bushels, an excess of 20,000,000 bushels over the estimate of the United States government. Of this crop 42,000,000 bushels found their way to Duluth and 65,000,000 to Minneapolis.

Through the Duluth board in the tributary area was some 25,000,000 bushels greater than in 1891, and at Minneapolis 7,000,000 bushels less. This was owing largely to the fact that all elevators at Duluth in the tributary area, farmers, were 9,000,000 bushels less than from the harvest of 1891, and at Minneapolis 7,000,000 bushels less. This was owing largely to the fact that all elevators at Duluth in the tributary area, farmers, were 9,000,000 bushels less than from the harvest of 1891, and at Minneapolis 7,000,000 bushels less.

During the entire crop year 65,500 carloads of wheat were received and sold on the board. In 1891, only about 45,000 carloads were received and sold on the board. In 1892, only about 45,000 carloads were received and sold on the board. In 1893, only about 45,000 carloads were received and sold on the board.

Large as was the crop of 1892, and excellent as was the quality, the grain and elevator interests of the Northwest generally find themselves at the close of the year in far worse condition than at its beginning. It has been the uniform custom of the Northwestern millers, grain buyers and elevators, excepting only those that confine themselves to a strict warehousing business, to hedge by future sales against their purchases of cash grain, in order to insure them in their carrying charges, and to avoid all speculation. But this year the uniform custom of the Northwestern millers, grain buyers and elevators, excepting only those that confine themselves to a strict warehousing business, to hedge by future sales against their purchases of cash grain, in order to insure them in their carrying charges, and to avoid all speculation.

"The indication for the crop of 1893, which is the largest on record, is that the shipping and milling points, is that there will be harvested in the three Northwestern states about 100,000,000 bushels, which is a very fair average. For the past six or seven years the average has been not far from 90,000,000 to 95,000,000 bushels, not including the crop of 1892. Early appearances go to show that this crop will be of a very high quality, and it will probably show more No. 1 hard wheat than for several years past. It is an excellent milling grain, though millers are not yet using any large proportion of new crop in their rolls. Of 67 cars received at Duluth in the last few days August not less than 575 cars were either No. 1 hard or No. 1 northern. The price, however, is extremely low, and in order to avoid selling at the present low prices, many sections are feeding low-grade wheats to their hogs, claiming that at the present prices they can save money by so doing.

"But the low price of grain has one slightly compensative feature in the correspondingly low rate of carriage by lake and canal to the Eastern seaboard. The rate of the present summer lake freights on wheat, Duluth to Buffalo, have been steady at 1 1/2 c a bushel, and now remain at that figure, with little change. The hope of improvement in this freight is equivalent to 30c a ton, or one-half mill per mile on. Canal freights, Buffalo to New York, including Buffalo charges, are not far from 50 cents per bushel, and in previous years they have averaged much more.

"The most notable feature of the year in the grain trade of the head of the lakes has been the demand from local mills for grain for grinding. This demand has grown from actually nothing three years ago to not far from 900,000 bushels a month at the present time. Conservative figures estimate that the local milling demand for the new crop, judged by mills now in operation and about ready to start up, will be from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 bushels.

I often suffered with pains in my head that were due to the catarrhal trouble. Having heard so much of the Copeland Medical Institute and the cases successfully treated there, I applied for treatment and got relief at once. There are no more pains in my head, there is no profuse secretion in my nose and throat as heretofore, and I feel better in every respect, in fact the treatment I received was such that I can commend it to any who may be afflicted with a catarrhal trouble."

The Well Known Hotel Proprietor, of West Duluth, Endorses the Copeland System of Treatment.

Among the people of West Duluth who have tested the Copeland system of treatment is Capt. J. R. Randall, the general proprietor of the First Avenue hotel. He is an old citizen and there is probably no man at the head of the lakes who is better or more favorably known than Capt. Randall, being a member of the "Grand Army of the Republic" and having been at an earlier date connected with the police force of this city. When questioned in regard to his experience with the Copeland system, he said: "I was a sufferer from catarrh of the head that was gradually invading other parts of my body, my stomach and bowels were becoming affected. My head combined me for many years by the formation of secretions in the nose and throat; my left ear became affected, manifesting itself by a deafness in that organ. Made to the Public By the Copeland Physicians.

An Offer That Should Be Taken Advantage of Once as It Ceases Oct. 1st.

With the earnest, honest desire to do the greatest amount of good to the largest number of people at the season of the year when such good can be best accomplished, the Copeland physicians make the extremely low rate of $5.00 per month for treating all curable diseases. This amount includes all charges for treatment, as well as the preparation and furnishing to their patients all necessary medicines. Thus is presented an opportunity to the afflicted cannot afford to ignore. These physicians have made a wonderfully successful record during their practice of over a year in this city, and accomplished a world of good. Many of your friends and neighbors have testified to the success of the Copeland system of treatment, and many more are ready and willing to do so. Winter is almost at our doors! The weather will then be few days of August not less than 575 cars were either No. 1 hard or No. 1 northern. ## WEST DULUTH ITEMS.

The Light and Water Company Asked the Council for a Committee to Confer With It.

Several Streets Ordered to be Improved and Plans Adopted—Poundmaster and Scavenger Appointed.

Jobbing Men Ask for Work and Want Men With Families Given the Preference.

The council held a short and unimportant session last evening. A communication from the light and water company asking that a committee be appointed to confer with that company was received, and the request granted.

Plans and resolutions were adopted for the improvement of Third street south of 57th, the alley between Central and First avenues 51st, and State street 18th.

John Gram was appointed poundmaster, and his salary fixed at $50 per month. William Wagoner was appointed village scavenger in the place of Nels Johnson.

A committee of nine laboring men appointed at the outdoor meetings last week appeared before the council with an Olund as spokesman, and asked the city to proceed with street work in order to give employment to laborers.

So that contractors be requested to re-employ citizens with families on the work, a committee from the council was appointed to confer with the laboring men in reference to those to be employed. The matter was left to the next meeting.

Wants Them to Marry. A crowd of about 150 laborers attended the council meeting last evening to see the outcome of their petition in regard to work. ## Work For the Convicts.

A rather serious problem has been created at the state prison at Stillwater, owing to no proposals having been received for the employment of the convicts and the treasurer company having declined to renew its contract for another year. The action of the treasurer company was entirely unexpected as it has a large plant in the vicinity of the prison and secures convict labor at a very low price. The company, however, asserts that the employment of convicts works to the detriment of its business, and that therefore convict labor is dear
at any price.

The state prison board is much perplexed over the situation. It is certainly desirable that the convicts shall not be kept in idleness, but there is no work for them to do at present. A part of the force has been engaged in the manufacture of binding twine, and with fair success and profit to the farmers of the state, but all the convicts cannot be placed on this description of work. Nor is it easy to decide what action shall be taken to meet the unexpected situation.
It is difficult to find some employment
that will not bring the convicts into competition with honest men, and it must be remembered that labor organizations have been created a sentiment against prison-made goods, and it is that antagonistic influence that the treasurer company which has abandoned the Stillwater prison labor is desirous of avoiding.

The Evening Wisconsin of Milwaukee makes a suggestion that is really worthy of consideration, when hunting for a solution of this problem. "Minnesota," it says, "may have to put her convicts at work upon her roads, in order to keep them healthfully employed. If she does, and the results are such as have been predicted by road reformers who have suggested that solution of the prison labor problem, other states may follow her example." Certainly the roads of the state stand greatly in need of improvement, and if the convicts can be utilized in this way it will be a great benefit.
There appear, however, to be some difficulties in the way, the main one being the transportation of any considerable number of convicts over the state and preventing their escape while at great distances from the prison.

Religious Union.

The parliament of religions which opened at Chicago yesterday is the most remarkable of all the world's congresses that have been held in connection with the great exposition. All shades of religious belief are represented, and the marvelous religious progress of the nineteenth century will be reviewed. Could some of the priests and clergymen of the past generation return to earth today
they would be truly astonished to see such a mixed religious gathering, where Buddhist priests are associating with Christian prelates and Catholics, Protestants and members of the Greek church sit side by side in temporary unity. They would indeed be forced to the conclusion that the long expected millennium had arrived at last.

It is an encouraging spectacle and may presage the day when all the religious denominations will merge their respective creeds and entertain a common belief which shall be the doctrine of the church universal. That the proceedings of this congress will do much to produce that result there can be no doubt. The mere fact that men of such widely divergent religious belief can be found fraternizing in Chicago today shows the great advance that has been made in religious toleration during the present century.

Such an assembly would have been impossible at the opening of the present century, and when such a change in feeling has occurred in less than one hundred years may we not expect that the lines which now divide the various sects will be still further effaced before the next century draws to a close? The church universal may be yet a dream, and yet it must be confessed that never in the history of the world have the conditions leaned so favorably in that direction.

It Was a Great Success.
The Herald feels very proud of the success which has attended its popular price excursion to the World's fair.
Ninety-four people took advantage of the only opportunity to visit the fair at such a low price. It shows that the railroads could greatly increase their World's fair business if they would make a further reduction in the rates and that their profits would be greater.

It was the intention of The Herald to have several more excursions at equally low rates, but owing to the action taken by the Western Passenger association, it is impossible to again obtain as favorable terms from the railroads. At least, that is the present outlook.

Should at any time before the end of October be possible to make satisfactory arrangements, The Herald will give another excursion and is confident that the happy experiences of those who went on this excursion would result in a still greater rush.

A writer in the St. Paul Globe of yesterday paid the following tribute to the rush with which things are done in Duluth: "Duluth is a very enterprising town. So lively, in fact, that even the dead can't rest. As business spreads over the town in true Western enterprise they move the cemetery to make room for business blocks. I visited on the route to the new cemetery. The funerals that I saw always trotted off at a lively gait, instead of moping along as they the very horses felt sorry for the deceased. I couldn't find out accurately whether business was so brisk or whether they had to hurry in order to catch the cemetery before it was moved again."

The New York Engineering News says: "The tunnel of the Cataract Construction company at Niagara Falls has recently been put in use, to a limited extent, through the starting of the large mills of the Niagara Falls Paper company, whose turbines, generating about 2,000 horse power, discharge their water into a small tunnel, which empties into the main tail race tunnel. Work on the wheel pits for the main power works is in progress, about 300 men being employed, but it will probably be nearly a year longer before the entire work is completed and ready for the delivery of power."

The Albany Journal observes: "It is a singular thing that, if the people of the United States desire a tariff for revenue only, nobody appears before the ways and means committee in the house to urge its adoption, except foreigners and those who directly represent foreigners."
The Journal forgets that the people of the United States have expressed their desires in this regard so emphatically that there is no necessity for repeating them. Has the Journal forgotten what the people of this country said last November?

It is said that in the White House conservatories a most curious plant grows which the superintendent calls "vegetable whisky," because the blossoms which are cup-like receptacles in each of which is nearly half a pint of intoxicating fluid. Insects which fall into them are devoured by the plant. It has been claimed that all inventions of man have been copied from nature, and it seems even the saloon has its prototype in the vegetable kingdom resulting in the same fatal manner if trifled with.

M. O. Hall, who has just returned from a visit to Ireland, has incurred the enmity of home rulers by saying that leading Irish manufacturers told him home rule would be disastrous to the Emerald Isle.

He should have remembered the experience of Dr. Ames, of Minneapolis, a few years ago.

A snake charmer is dying in a Chicago hospital as the result of being bitten by a large rattlesnake. It may be necessary to pass a law prohibiting snake charming exhibitions in order to prevent fools from running such terrible risks.

It might be a good idea for those who have the money to buy their winter's supply of coal while the members of the old combine are cutting prices. They may conclude after a while that the combine should be re-established.

Several states are proposing to donate their World's fair buildings to the city of Chicago for various public uses. This would be better than to rent them down and it would be a gracious tribute to the Chicago enterprise that made such a fair possible.

When there are so many conflicting reports regarding the fate of Emin Pasha, it is strange James Gordon Bennett does not send some one to Africa to find out the facts.

There is good reason for believing that the senate will give a majority of eleven in favor of the Sherman law's repeal.

THE GREATEST OF ALL.

No Excursion Ever Run Out of Duluth So Successful as The Herald's World's Fair Train.

Twice as Many People as the Railroad Officials Expected Took Advantage of the Cheap Rate.

General Passenger Agent Pond Met
the Train Outside of Chicago—
Those Who Went.

The Herald excursion which left Duluth yesterday afternoon over the Wisconsin Central road was the most successful ever run out of Duluth. There have been those upon which larger crowds have gone but none where the number going so greatly exceeded the expectations of the road officials and all parties concerned. When the Minneapolis Journal ran its first excursion with the Twin Cities and all the immense territory through which it circulated Sunday to accompany the excursion
drawn from just toy tickets were sold.
The Herald sold 88 or only 21 less.

Phil H. Noel, district passenger agent of the road, came up from Chicago on Sunday to accompany the excursion down. When informed that at least seventy-five people would go his breath was taken away. He declared that both he and General Passenger Agent Pond had placed thirty-five as the maximum number who would go. He telegraphed at once that two sleepers must be furnished instead of one, as at first contemplated. When General Passenger Agent Pond was telegraphed that more than eighty people would go down he was so clashed that he immediately wired back that he would meet the train eighty miles out of Chicago and personally see that all were properly taken care of.
When the train pulled out of the Union depot yesterday the two sleepers were crowded and two coaches were comfortably filled with excursionists.
There was no confusion and all were made comfortable at once. Nearly everybody had a World's fair guide and began to study it before the train pulled out.

Many of those who went down will stay longer than the four days included in the ticket. The tickets are good for thirty days and a pro rata rate is given at the hotel.

Among those who went from Duluth were: E. R. Cobb, Emil Peterson, J. L.
Quimby, Mrs. E. F. Barto, Miss K. J.

FOR A MARKET PLACE.

Alderman Hugo Introduces An Ordinance Providing That E. C. Holliday Build One for the City.

Mayor d'Autremont Names Thomas B. Hizar to Succeed Nils Nelson—Several Policemen Also Named.

An Appropriation Made for Buying a Site and Building a Fire Hall on Du-luth Heights.

The question of a market house for Duluth performed the resurrection act last evening and as it scampers around the council chamber, allowed the breches of the city fathers' censure to blow through its heavy whiskers. Alderman Hugo was the man who played the Gabriel act. Near the close of the session he said that he wished to introduce an ordinance which he hoped would meet the approval of each councilman. As yet Duluth has no public market house. There also seems to be no rift in the clouds that obscure the establishment of such an institution. The effect of a public market would hasten the development of the territory beyond the hills back of the town; it would reduce the household expenses of every family in the city; it would give satisfaction and convenience to all purchasers of vegetables; it would diminish to an infinitesimal degree the chances of sickness from the eating of unit vegetables.

The ordinance provides that E. C. Holliday shall be allowed to build a market some where north of the St. Paul & Duluth railway tracks and between Third avenue east and Eighth street west. The structure shall be substantially constructed, properly heated and the stalls shall be arranged and ready for occupancy by Jan. 1, 1895. The privilege shall be in Mr. Holliday's hands for twenty years, but at the end of ten years, the city shall have the privilege of purchasing the building. The salary of a market master to be appointed by the council, and commissioned by the mayor as police authority.

Alderman Hizar wanted to know what was in letting Mr. Holliday have that privilege when the city had purchased lots on Second street for a market. Alderman Hugo replied that while the city is in an excellent condition financially, spot cash is unavailable at the board of public utility and the council and the press criticize and discuss the ordinance and then if any objections appear or a more practicable and desirable plan appears, the ordinance was referred.

Mayor d'Autremont led another lamb to the slaughter, unless it so be that hither Cox has taken off his bloody political apron and laid down his butcher's knife. His honor named Thomas B. Hizar as successor to Nils Nelson on the board of public utility.

Two Zeijlers, Charles Leland and J. O'Connor were also presented as nominees for confirmation for places on police force.

The ordinance establishing three public scales and a weighmaster was passed. The weighmaster will draw $1,000 per month. Among the many candidates following are a few: William Solter, Charles D. Hazen, W. D. Hammond, Dan Blanchard, C. W. H. Harvey, William Parsons, S. C. Holden, J. S. Jwyer, Hugh Wakefield, Charles E. Ayer, A. Snyder, A. O. Ayers, E. L. Huntington, E. D. Connor, F. T. Little, J. W. Merrill, Noble Sampson, C. L. Grelwitz, E. J. Tveit.

The next thing to worry the councilmen was a resolution introduced by Alderman Myers, authorizing the fire commissioners to purchase two lots on Du-luth Heights at the corner of Du-luth and 12th streets, under the direction of the board of public works, erect a fire hall and furnish it, the whole, lots and all, not to exceed in cost $50,000.

Alderman Thomas objected to the people being compelled to improve very forty-acre townsite laid out by speculators in the woods. He thought that if the city erected and equipped an engine house, that was enough, and that he should be supplied by the townsite speculators.

Alderman Myers arose in reply and narrated the history of the matter. He said of the many petitions from the residents up there and of the danger to their life properties. He told how his committee had been asked $700 each for lots to build an engine house upon and his indignation at that committee. He extolled the story of a visit to Mr. Lendenhall and that gentleman's agreement to give lots free, ending the interview by directing the difference between Mr. Myers then told how a letter soon after came saying that the directors of the improvement company had considered the matter and demanded $200 each for the property. A searching arraignment of what the speaker called Iazen's "cheek" was given in a few short sentences.

Alderman Hugo said that while the action of the improvement company was estopped by the councilmen, the erection of this fire hall was only justice to the one life residents.

Alderman Wilson moved to put the resolution over one week. His motion was lost and the original resolution passed.

The city bills were passed. A resolution providing that hereafter all city orders given by the city shall be inspected and certified as legal and good, by the city attorney before acceptance, was also adopted. A similar resolution re-

KICKAPOO INDIAN SAGWA

Why it is The Safest Liver and Stomach Remedy Known.

Indians Have No Knowledge of Mineral Drugs and Poisons—They Go With Roots and Herbs of the Field and Forest.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is a remedy that many claim will almost raise the dead.

Sagwa is the remedy upon which the Indian relies at all times and seasons.

Sagwa gives strength, tones the appetite, purifies and enriches the blood, and is the greatest liver, stomach and blood renovator ever known to man.

Indians know not the use of those harmful drugs, and could not use them if they would.

This fact is important. The medicine you take into your system should be to strengthen and build it up, not merely to stimulate it, and add the fuel of poison to the consuming flames of disease.

Indians don't have Dyspepsia, yet they eat anything and everything, at all times and under all conditions.

Indians don't have Malaria, yet they sleep out of doors, exposed to night air, live in damp places, and frequent changes are quite common to their mode of life.

Yet both these ailments, and many others, that the red men never have are frequently found among white people.

How is it with the Indian? Knowing the value of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa he keeps it constantly with him and when his system feels run down, he keeps it up as we say, the Indian takes a few doses of Sagwa.

He keeps well. He doesn't wait until danger overtakes him, but carefully watches for its approach and wards off the attack.

Here is a lesson to profit by. Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, made by the Indians from roots, bark and herbs of their own gathering and curing, is available of any druggist, at one dollar per bottle, six bottles for five dollars.

All the Kickapoo Remedies are Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

The Bethel Meeting.

The annual meeting of the directory of the Bethel met last evening. The directors whose terms had expired were re-elected. The report of the secretary and manager showed the institution to be in a prosperous condition. The reports were referred to Judge Morris and will be printed in due time. It was decided to have hereafter an annual meeting on some Sunday evening in one of the churches—a sort of union meeting of all the churches to discuss Bethel work, but not to raise money.

Will Draw a Crowd in Duluth.
Since it is settled that the "journalists" will surely make Duluth, we prophesy that the knights of the pen here will turn out in full force. The part in the play portraying the Heronson clone of a man endeavoring to become a great journalist in a Western town, will probably be as fully appreciated in Duluth as anywhere in the world.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive catarrh cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acts directly on the blood, and cures the disease of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing her work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE NEW DIRECTORY.

R. L. Polk & Co. Are About Ready to Issue the Edition for Duluth for the Year '93-94.

There Are 26,647 Names In It, An Increase of 1,742 Over Last Year's Number.

Using the Multiple Generally Accepted As Correct This Would Indicate a Population of 74,490.

Polk's directory of Duluth for 1893-94 will soon be issued. There is always more or less interest in the preface or introductory descriptive of the city, and this year's is one of the best which has ever been placed in the book. The Herald has been able to obtain proof sheets in advance and a general idea of it will be of interest. After reciting with what care the work has been prepared the introductory reads:

"The growth of a city, which is really more clearly indicated by the number of names in the directory than by a political census, is always interesting and valuable, and it will be gratifying to all to observe the large number of new names and the increase in profitable industries, especially when the severe financial crisis which has just passed over the country is considered.

"There are in this volume 26,647 names, an increase of 1,742 over the year. This, multiplied by 2½, the figure which has been found to correctly represent the women and children whose names do not appear in the directory, indicates a population of 74,490 and an increase of 7,283 souls since the issue of the last directory. This is not far below the average increase in Duluth for ten years and is cause for general rejoicing, for a city that can resist the late depression without the slightest loss surely has all the elements and resources which are required to make a great metropolis.

"Duluth is one of a very few cities that has had no bank failures, and in addition to her well deserved reputation as a manufacturing and commercial emporium she is now attracting universal attention as a sound financial center. There is no city in the Union today, Chicago excepted, that has been so widely advertised on account of her bold and resolute undertakings and liberal policy, her advantageous location, her shipping facilities by rail and water and her facilities for manufacturing every article used in this community, as well as distributing points for merchandise, and capitalists and investors throughout this continent, invariably point to Duluth as the city which is most likely to ultimately become the greatest in the West; and now that she has safely weathered the worst storm she is ever likely to encounter and is still found to be in excellent condition, her progress in the future is certain to be more rapid than the phenomenal record which she has already made."

Then follows an excellent description of Duluth's location and history; of her business advantages, her property valuation, her banks, postoffice business, public improvements, railways, lake transportation, coal trade, iron mines, mills and factories, schools, churches, parks, and in fact everything of which the city is proud. Altogether, Polk's directory for '93-94 will reflect credit not only on the city, but on the firm which prepared it.

TOMORROW'S YACHT RACE.

Some of the Regulations Adopted by the Committee.

Tomorrow's yacht race is the talk of the town and if only the wind and weather are favorable there will be a great contest. The fog will have to clear away or it will be a failure or have to be postponed. The regatta committee has issued instructions for the contestants and will require them to be rigidly observed.

All yachts are to assemble at the end of the canal pier near the fog signal house at 10:30 o'clock. The starting flag will be displayed from a pole at the end of the pier. The course will be triangular and was laid out yesterday. The first buoy was placed near the pier, the second three miles toward the south shore and the third near Lakeside, making a nine-mile course to be sailed around the buoys. The buoys are marked by red and white flags.

Five minutes before 10 o'clock the Duluth Yacht club flag will be hoisted and a gun fired or a whistle blown. At the expiration of five minutes a second gun will be fired and the flag hauled down and this will be the signal to go. The following are the entries and the names of the boats: Jessie Lee, No. 1; Kowena, No. 2; Siren, No. 3; Undine, No. 4; E. M. Wilson, of Superior, No. 5; Folio, of Chicago, No. 6. The last named boat is from Marquette and is expected to arrive tonight.

The time allowances are as follows: Jessie Lee, sailing length 41 feet 5 inches, allows 10 minutes; Kowena, sailing length 37 feet 11 inches, 6 minutes 35 seconds; also allows Siren, sailing length 31 feet 3½ inches, 10 minutes 57 seconds. Kowena allows Siren 4 minutes 21 seconds.

All yachts must carry life preservers and the committee will have a man aboard each boat to see that the buoys are properly turned and that no ballast is cast overboard. After the race all yachts will gather at the end of the pier when the winner will be declared.

AS ONLY A BABY CAN.

Consoles One for All Sorrows Save Those it Brings—The Attention of Mothers Awakened to the Need of Better Diet.

A baby is a despot in long clothes. The mother's tenderness and her marvelous intuition for doing the right thing accomplishes much; but it often happens, with all her solicitude, that ignorance of infant needs endangers baby's health and life.

"In looking over my cases of summer diarrhoea for the past few years," says

LITTLE CASSANDRA.

Dr. Holt, physician to the New York infant asylum, found that in over 400 cases the most common exciting cause was improper feeding.

Because it is the most nourishing, most palatable, most digestible, parent of foods, physicians and experienced nurses recommend and use lactated food.

Lactated food has saved thousands of infants from cholera infantum and fatal diarrhoea. It more closely resembles mother's milk than any other food known. Its basis is sugar of milk, which is the basis of mother's milk. With it is combined the nutritive parts of wheat, barley, and oats in such proportions as best meet the requirements of the growing child.

"Our little Cassandra," writes Mrs. T. W. Wallace of Oberlin, O., "has been using lactated food, and has never seen a sick day since."

Babies live on lactated food!

ALDERMAN QUINBY DEAD.

He Expired Suddenly Last Evening Shortly After Retiring.

When it was heard this morning that Alderman Fred H. Quinby died at his home, No. 710, West Second street, last night shortly before midnight, the fact could not at first be credited.

He was present at the council meeting last evening and seemed in his usual good degree of health and spirit. After the session he spent a short time down town and then went home. About 11:15 o'clock Mrs. Quinby discovered that all was not right with her husband and called up Mr. Smith, a neighbor hard by. He at once went and called Dr. Slaughter but he returned home without having been able to breathe his last. The cause of his death was heart trouble.

Alderman Quinby, at the time of his death, was 40 years of age. At the last municipal election he was chosen to a seat in the council, a position which he held with credit to himself and benefit to the city. He was born in 1853 in Waterville, Me., and was married to Miss Caroline Smith fourteen years ago in New York. He has resided in Duluth for nine years and stood high in business circles. He leaves a widow and three children and his untimely death will be widely and deeply regretted.

F. H. Quinby was a member of Palestine lodge No. 79, A. F. and A. M. and also of Duluth commandery No. 18. His funeral will be under the Masonic auspices and a meeting of masons will be held this evening to make arrangements. The city council will attend in a body, a special meeting having been held at 4 p. m. today to arrange for it and to pass resolutions.

Is Again Postponed.
The investigation of City Detective Tom Hayden on the charges preferred by Baldwin Walker were to have been continued this morning at 9 o'clock, but in consideration of the need for the defendant's services in connection with the Kravenbuhl case, a further postponement until Thursday morning at the same hour was taken.

Criminal Matters Occupied Considerable Time This Morning.

Judges Lewis and Brown are today still engaged on the cases which were begun yesterday morning—Frink against Manice before the former and the personal injury suit of McKillop against the street railway company before the latter.

A good deal of Judge Lewis' time has been taken up by criminal matters. Yesterday afternoon the grand jury returned indictments against Angelo D. Falso, assault in second degree, and John Traynor, indecent assault, and then adjourned to this afternoon.

Thomas Tolenti, Kuska Kespman and Valentine Yenan, grand larceny first degree, not guilty.

John Carney, grand larceny second degree, not guilty.

Adolph Le Roy, grand larceny second degree, not guilty, and later changed plea to guilty.

William Torggart, indicted for unlawfully and wilfully destroying personal property, demurred to the indictment on the grounds that it was not sufficient in not showing in what manner the horse was killed. Judge Lewis sustained the demurrer, remanded the prisoner to jail and referred the indictment back to the grand jury.

At chambers this morning, Judge Ensign appointed William H. Silvey, receiver of the property of L. P. Emerson in place of Sheridan Sharpy, who was unable to serve.

MURDER AT DETROIT

Body of a Man Dressed in Sailor Garb Found With the Head Hacked and Battered.

The Street Spattered With Blood Stains and Pieces of Clotted Hair Adhered to a Stone.

and a Half Million Feet of Lumber Burned at West Bay City by an Incendiary.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 13.—A horrible murder was committed some time last night at the dock at the foot of Randolph street. The head and the face of the victim are hacked and battered almost beyond recognition. The body was discovered this morning on top of a pile of stone. Although it had rained hard during the night, traces of a bloody crime were everywhere. A big pool of blood lay near the head and the surrounding stones were spattered with blood stains. Pieces of clotted hair adhered to a block of stone, as if the unfortunate's head had been jammed against it to make his death sure. The man was dressed in sailor garb. There is no clue to the murderer.

FIRE AT WEST BAY CITY.
It Was of Incendiary Origin and Much Lumber Was Burned.

WEST BAY CITY, Mich., Sept. 13.—Fire started at 1 o'clock this morning in John Welch's lumber docks and spread rapidly. At 1:30, 1,000,000 feet of the lumber had been destroyed, but a heavy rain had started and it was thought the fire was under control. The loss will reach $12,000.

Later—the fire was controlled at 3 o'clock. Two and a half million feet of lumber were destroyed. Sailing, Hanson & Co., of Gray's, and Fisher & Co., of Bay City, were the owners. There is no doubt that the fire was of incendiary origin, as two explosions were heard just before the fire started. John Hall has been arrested on suspicion.

THE SITUATION SERIOUS.
Crowds at the Cherokee Registering Booths Started Two Riots.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 13.—The situation at the registering booth north of Stillwater is growing serious. Twice the crowds have broken the lines and started a riot that required the soldiers to quell, and they declare that if they did not all get registered before Saturday they will destroy the booths and all the declarations and go on to the land without certificates. There are a large number of rough characters from the Creek and Choctaw nations in the crowd who are constantly raising disturbances. Two men and a woman were badly hurt in the rush when the lines were broken Monday. The interior department officials here expect to increase the force of clerks in the booths today and rush matters through a little better.

Cannot be Registered.
ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., Sept. 13.—It is now certain that fewer than half those who desired to make the race into the strip Saturday will be given an opportunity to register. The lines in waiting are steadily on the increase, notwithstanding that about 2,000 registrations are made at each booth daily, except at those in the extreme western part where the lands are valuable only as cattle ranges.

This morning opened bright and clear, and the weather is warmer than it has yet been. There are no indications of rain for which the prospective settlers are devoutly praying. At Stillwater, where the rendezvous of the Dalton gang of train robbers and which is twenty miles off the road on the southern line, an unusually large crowd has congregated, and directly north of there are the choicest lots to be found in the strip. Everyone unites in declaring the registration idea a complete failure and thousands will enter the strip without taking the trouble to get a registration certificate.

THIS WAS MICHIGAN'S DAY.
The Wolverine State Was Well Represented in the White City.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—This was Michigan day at the fair, and the Wolverine state was well represented within the White City throughout the day. On the platform at the state building where the day's program was carried out, were the first and the last governors of Michigan, Gen. Alger, Senator Palmer, Director Davis and many other notables.

Governor Rich was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Eaton, Adjt. Gen. Devlin, Inspector General Frank J. Haines and his staff in uniform. The Columbian Liberty bell was rung by several young Michigan ladies in honor of the state's anniversary of admission to the Union, and also for the anniversary of Hutton ascending the river which bears his name. Speeches were delivered by the governors and ex-governors present, Senator Palmer and Director Davis.

The Situation Improving.
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—There is no change to report in the money situation, which is steadily gravitating toward greater ease. The loan committee of the clearing house yesterday retired $600,000 of certificates, leaving the total outstanding $3,695,000.

Furnaces Starting Up.
CLEVELAND, Sept. 13.—The Otis Steel company started on its furnace yesterday in its large melting house and today six of the twelve gangs employed in the forge resumed work. It is expected that more men will be put to work before the week is out.

THE CZECH AGITATIONS.

An Imperial Decree to Put a Stop to the Bohemian Troubles.

VIENNA, Sept. 13.—For years the trouble growing out of the Czech agitations in Bohemia have been a source of much annoyance to the imperial government. Some months ago a disgraceful scene in the Bohemian diet, caused by the political group known as young Czechs, resulted in temporary closing of the body by imperial decree.

This in no wise lessened the agitation carried on by the Czechs and the political situation became so threatening that further and more vigorous measures were taken, under advisement by the imperial authorities, to put an end to the trouble if possible.

Today a decree on the subject, signed by the imperial ministry and having the sanction of Emperor Francis Joseph, is published. This decree orders the suspension of articles 12 and 13 of the constitutional law concerning the rights of the citizens of Prague, the capital of Bohemia and the suburbs of that city. The articles suspended bear more particularly upon the liberty of the press, popular assemblies and the right of trial by jury for certain offences.

THREE LIVES WERE LOST.

The Steamer Byron Terice Burned to the Water's Edge and Three of the Crew Cremated.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., Sept. 13.—The handsome passenger and freight steamer Byron Terice was burned to the water's edge at 2 o'clock this morning. Three lives were lost and two persons were badly burned they may not recover. The steamer has been lying between Rondeau and Cleveland all summer and had run into this port for shelter during the severe storm which prevailed on Lake Erie Monday night. Fortunately she was running with a light crew.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp and then a barrel of oil. The flames spread rapidly, and when the fire also and escape by that way was cut off. The captain and purser made desperate efforts to lower a boat but were compelled to jump into the lake after being terribly burned. They reached shore but are badly used up.

The mate and engineer reached shore in safety, but three others of the crew perished. The list of the dead and injured is as follows: Dead—George Shaw, fireman, of Wallaceburg; John Cronk, of Dresden, deck hand; Jennie Finnicsee, cook. Injured—Capt. D. F. McKee, Purser Jackson, both badly burned. The steamer was valued at $35,000.

WAS FATALLY ASSAULTED.
A Row at Pittsburg in Which Several Prisoners Were Involved.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 13.—William Cunningham, a printer 40 years old, was assaulted and fatally injured by a police Monday night. Half an hour later Edward King, also a printer, who admitted having struck Cunningham, was arrested. Cunningham died at 1:30 this morning.

Oscar Howard, a printer, and James Murray, a proof reader, were also arrested but were discharged by the police magistrate. The entire city detective force are looking for the two last named, who if found will be charged with complicity in the assault. James Dickinson, another printer, is also wanted in connection with the case.

A Swindler in Frisco.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—F. W. Smith, representing himself as special agent of the United States treasury, a nephew of Senator Voorhies and a son of an influential New York politician, opened an expensive office here telling the janitor that he would pay the rent when his vouchers from Washington arrived. He had the janitor go security for his fine furniture, he engaged a room and gave a large sum of money for stationery houses. He has fled, leaving numerous creditors.

Keely League Convention.
CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The third national convention of Keely leagues opened yesterday in Central Music hall to a meagre audience of delegates. Owing to delay of Western trains, nearly four hundred delegates, many of them from Leavenworth, failed to arrive. Mayor Harrison delivered an address of welcome. J. W. Horton, of Nashville, Tenn., made a brief address. Dr. Keely was called upon and he responded in an address of welcome. The doctor predicted great results from the convention.

Bismarck Recovering.
KISSINGEN, Sept. 13.—Notwithstanding the alarmist reports in regard to Prince Bismarck's condition that have been circulated, it can be said that the ex-chancellor is recovering from his recent attack of sickness. His condition is improving daily, slowly, of course, but still improving.

Given More Work.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 13.—The Candee Rubber company, employing 1800 hands will commence Friday to run on three-quarters time for the piece hands. The day hands will be given eight hours work daily from that date instead of the five hours that they are allowed at present.

Fallen From Grace.
LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 13.—Rev. Louis B. Talbot, delegated by the State Baptist Missionary society to work among the French people, is under arrest charged with incest with an 18-year-old daughter. Talbot came here two and a half years ago from Massachusetts.

A Millionaire's Death.
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Fred L. Ames, a millionaire of Boston, died suddenly while on his way from his home to New York last night. Mr. Ames was a director of the Union Pacific railroad.

A Contractor Fatally Injured.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—Contractor L. M. Loss, of Rochester, N. Y., while at work on a bridge at Alton, Ill., last night, was struck by a derrick and probably fatally injured.

FLETCHER IS IN LUCK

"Your Uncle Loren" Assigned to Two Important Subcommittees in Which Duluth is Interested.

The Decision to Consolidate the St. Cloud and Taylor's Falls Land Offices Displeases Maj. Baldwin.

He Made a Persistent Effort to Have the Taylor's Falls Office Removed to Hinckley.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Fletcher was assigned to two important subcommittees by Chairman Wise, of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, at today's meeting. Mr. Fletcher is put on interstate and foreign affairs to which is referred all railroad legislation. This will give Mr. Fletcher an opportunity to look out for all Canadian railroad bills affecting Duluth and the entire Northwest. Fletcher was also put on the sub-committee on bridges, which is important to Duluth at this time.

Representative Baldwin was the first to congratulate Mr. Fletcher upon the important assignments today. Maj. Baldwin said later to The Herald that he was highly pleased that Mr. Fletcher had been placed on these committees. "No better friend of Duluth could be found," said Maj. Baldwin.

The decision of Secretary Smith and Commissioner Lamoreux to consolidate the land offices at St. Cloud and Taylor's Falls is not pleasing to Representative Baldwin. It will be recalled that he wanted the Taylor's Falls office removed to Hinckley. He submitted facts and figures showing that the Taylor's Falls office was the most profitable and justified the change to Hinckley and it was not the best policy to make this consolidation. Smith and Lamoreux, however, think differently and this consolidation has been agreed upon.

FIGHT IN THE FAIR GROUNDS.
Waiters Attacked Columbian Guards and Were Badly Whipped.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—There was a bloody fight this morning in and outside the Big Tree restaurant in the south part of the fair grounds between forty waiters and fifteen Columbian guards. The waiters, who were the aggressors, came out of the melee battered and bruised and the ring-leaders were arrested.

The disgraceful affair began with a dispute over a big advertisement banner which had been stretched across the driveway by the saloon restaurant, a practice contrary to the standing orders of the director general. Sergeant Darling was detailed to go to the place with four guards this morning and that the objectionable sign was taken down.

While performing his duty, some of the waiters hurled oaths and profane words at him and threatened to throw the guards out of the place. While the guards were pulling down the banner a chair was thrown at them by a waiter and the fight was on. The sergeant blew his whistle for help and ten guards came up on the run. They rushed in on the two waiters and handed them with bare knuckles. The Big Tree concession is in danger of being revoked.

AN INVASION IMMINENT.
The Matabele Tribe is About to Make an Attack on Mashonaland.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Despatches from Capetown state that the long threatened invasion of Mashonaland by the Matabele tribe is imminent. The Matabele warriors, the dispatch says, are advancing in large bodies toward Mashonaland. The Mashonans are fleeing to Fort Victoria, the station of the British South Africa company. The defenses of the fort have been greatly strengthened, and extra store of provisions have been laid in, all of which indicates that a siege is expected.

DISSENSION AMONG DIRECTORS.
A Receiver Wanted For a Colorado Mining Company.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—A dissension among the managers and directors of the Igo Consolidated Mining company has led Thos. J. Reid, a stockholder and former vice president to file a bill in the circuit court, asking for a receiver to wind up the affairs of the concern. The company was incorporated with a capital stock of $200,000. It owns mines twenty-five miles northwest of the town of Anderson, Shasta county. Col. Reid claims that the company has been badly managed and that it is in no shape to longer continue business.

Scarcity of Sugar.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—There is a scarcity of sugar in this city and in all parts of the country supplied by the American Refining company, or sugar trust, that amounts almost to a famine. Retail grocers are making unavailing demands on the jobbers for supplies of sugar. All orders are now being taken by the wholesale dealers with the distinct understanding that they are for future delivery, which future is to be as near as circumstances admit.

A Famous Company Disbanded.
ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 13.—The famous Giesse company, winner of many prize drills in recent years, was disbanded by the state authorities. For some time there has been great dissatisfaction among military men over the military laws of the state, and when the grand enlistment ran out the officers found it impossible to re-enlist men.

This is Amazing.
LISBON, Sept. 13.—The Portuguese authorities have declared New York to be a cholera-infected port.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Sept. 14.—The weather was central north of Minnesota yesterday has taken a turn toward the south and is central this morning over the center of Lake Superior, having increased somewhat in energy.
An area of high barometer has moved to over in that section which will probably extend as far east as the lake region by tomorrow.
There has been a decided fall in temperature over the Southwest since yesterday. Lander, Wyoming, reported the lowest of the season, 35, and a minimum of 25 during the night. Over the central states and the South it is warmer.
Showers have fallen in scattered sections, and generally heavy ones, which may continue in this section today, and will continue over the country to the east of here tomorrow.
It is probable that the present unsettled conditions have prevailed since that fair weather will be back for the rest of the week.

& Novelty Co. News Stands.

Unfair Partisanship.

The News-Tribune says it is the official actions of Pension Commissioner Loehren that are criticised, not his army record or his private character, and it admits that he is a brave, loyal soldier
and an honest, upright man.
So far as The Herald is concerned, it has not objected to Judge Lochren's actions being criticised. It has, however, strongly objected to the tone of many of the criticisms, and it still protests against the unseemly attacks that have been made upon the motives of the commissioner, who is declared by the News Tribune to be a brave, loyal soldier and an honest, upright man. Extreme partisan papers have not only insinuated
but asserted unqualifiedly that the suspension of several thousand pensions for investigation of alleged fraud was prompted by unfriendliness to the old veterans.

"It is another proof," said some, "that the Democratic policy is opposed to granting pensions to the disabled veterans who fought to save the Union from disruption." The Herald will confess that its indignation is aroused by such basely false, partisan sentiments. It is not just treatment of Judge Lochren who is honestly and fearlessly performing his duty. It is not fair criticism but vilification.
The News Tribune may not have been guilty of such unfair conduct, but other Republican papers have thus wantonly assailed Judge Lochren's motives and purpose. Such partisan meanness merits the condemnation of all who believe in justice and fairness.

World's Fair Finances.

The report of the World's fair finances for August makes an excellent showing and gives promise that when the fair comes to a close the management will be able to make a very satisfactory statement so far as its receipts and expenditures are concerned.

Auditor Ackerman's report for August shows a reduction of $388,000 in the bonded indebtedness, and $318,616.44 in net liabilities since the first of August.
The total expenses of the fair to Sept. 1,
were $24,532,569.39; the gate receipts
have been $3,141,555.51, the concession receipts $1,757,657, the floating debt $1, 155,215 and the net liabilities of the fair
are now $371,845.88. Since Sept. 1 $444, 450 has been paid on the bonds and Sept.
15 another payment of the same amount will be made. By Oct. 1, according to Auditor Ackerman, the bonded debt will be reduced to $1,777,800 and the entire floating debt wiped out.

If these anticipations should be realized, the very large attendance that October will undoubtedly bring will wipe out all the remaining bonded debt and leave a handsome amount to be divided among the stockholders. Then there will remain the numerous buildings which nearly approaching their cost will be obtained for them, but the material of which they are constructed is valuable and will no doubt bring many thousands dollars into the fair treasury, which will swell the amount for division among the stockholders. That such a success has been achieved in a year of great financial depression is really remarkable.

No Flies on the Sun.

The "Faribault plan" has failed. The Catholic parochial school, which was turned over to the public school board a year ago, has been taken back by the church authorities and will become a parochial school once more. A dispatch says this action was taken by the priest of the parish under the orders of Archbishop Ireland, who was advised by Pope Leo to adopt this course.
The real trouble arose in regard to the teachers of this school. The school board insisted on appointing two Protestant teachers, the others being Catholics, but the church authorities thought all the teachers should be Catholics as they had been during the days when it was a parochial school, with the proviso that they should pass the teachers' examination provided by the state. It was impossible to reach an agreement on this point, and hence the "Faribault plan," which attained
such notoriety throughout the country, has ceased to exist. Apparently the "claret pots" of Pope Leo was conditioned upon the religious and sectarian character of the school being preserved, while the school district bore the expense of running it.

Canadian Politics.

A dispatch today announces that the Canadian parliament will probably be dissolved, the ministry having decided to make an appeal to the people. Elections are likely to occur in January, after a short session of parliament in November.

One of the main issues of the campaign will be the question of trade relations with the United States. The Tory government has opposed the policy of unrestricted reciprocity with this country,
and has always insisted upon what Mr.
Blaine once very aptly styled "jiggled" reciprocity. This plan was the idea of Sir John Macdonald, who was anxious to secure reciprocity in natural products, while at the same time keeping high prohibitory duties on American manufactures. Of course the Tories still follow this policy, because they apparently have no one in their ranks who can evolve a new idea and is courageous enough to assert it.

When a Tory does reach that stage, he is regarded by the rest of the party with suspicion and is forced to go over to the Liberal party. The Canadian Tories are thorough Bourbons. While forgetting nothing, they also learn nothing. Therefore they will go before the people with the same old program of protection to home industries, and the same old scare cry that unrestricted reciprocity is but a step to annexation. The loyalty cry will be raised again, and appeals to patriotism will take the place of argument and common sense.

The Canadian Liberals are strong, enthusiastic and united. At no previous period in their history have their prospects of success been so bright, and under the leadership of Mr. Laurier, who is surrounded by a score of able and untiring lieutenants, and with a platform declaring for free and unrestricted trade relations with this country, they should win a splendid victory.

Professor Campbell, of Montreal, has been found guilty of heresy by the Presbyterian church. He entertains views very similar to those expressed by Professor Briggs, and it was inevitable that he would be convicted in a country where Calvinism dominates the Presbyterian church.

The troubles of a Brooklyn bank are found to be due to the officials discounting their own notes. The practice is the most frequent cause of the collapse of banks and should be prohibited by law,
with heavy penalties provided.

Down at Eau Claire the other day a riotous mob interfered with the street services of the Salvation Army and one of the "soldiers" knocked down two of the mob. The crowd scattered and the victorious army proceeded.

One thousand deaths from cholera are

"See Mecca and die."

probate, etc.?

It is estimated that 1,500,000 Union soldiers survived the war, and yet there are nearly 1,000,000 names on the pension roll today.

Questionable Luck.

Superior Call: Duluth is having most of the luck in a sentimental and sensational way lately. Time was when there was any news at the head of the lakes it originated in Superior, but things have changed. A man can't get anything like a murder or a conspiracy or any other news worthy the name any more. Perhaps we are getting civilized over here, and the Duluth papers used to say we were not.

Really Devilish.

Vermilion Iron Journal: The Chicago
papers are now writing up "Midway by Midnight." Midway by midnight must be something really devilish if the mere daylight accounts are all correct.

No Flies on the Sun.

Pittsburg Press: The sun is now said
to be moving at the rate of eleven miles a second. On the face of it the sun has spots, but no flies.

Mrs. O. S. Humes has returned from the Eastern markets and her new goods are arriving daily.

A Public Market House.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I observe that there is a great want of a choice market site in the city of Duluth. I would strongly suggest that black situated between First avenue west and Lake avenue and between Third and Fourth streets, belonging to Mr. Mendenhall. Let our city council assume the same privilege as our park commissioners have done when they wanted grounds for park purposes. Let the council set the value on this choice piece of property, and let the council pay when they see fit.

There is no place in the city that would suit better. A market is wanted at once. We want less Italian flavor about our fruit than there is a great future for Duluth, so let us have a first-class market place. Let the city own it. Let the city control it. And there would be no more money making business for our city dads than to rush in and secure this block at a fair price. I should think Mr.
Mendenhall would want them half way,
they might find him liberal on that score.

My Trouser.

A very absentminded member of the French institute was reading the newspaper in the casino at Dieppe the other day. He was absorbed by his reading, and with his left hand he unconsciously pushed the files of newspapers on the table. Each moment he sent them farther from him. Beyond the papers was an inboard, which at last the moving papers pushed over the side of the table. He fell on the trousers of a Paris banker, who was furious at the accident.

The absentminded man offered his best excuses without appeasing the banker's wrath, who shrieked that his new trousers were ruined.
"But, sir, I will cheerfully pay for them. Do good enough to give me your card, and I will send the money to your hotel."
"To my hotel, sir? I don't know you.
I must instantly have the 20 francs these trousers cost."

The member of the institute drew forth the 20 francs and handed them to the banker. Then he said:
"Now that you have been paid, I hope you have too much of the delicacy of a gentleman to remain in my trousers. You know they are mine, and I insist upon their immediate delivery to me.
You have no confidence in me; I have none in you. My trousers!"

In vain the banker protested against such haste. The crowd that had gathered about the dispirited said the member of the institute was right, and the trousers were his. He drew forth a pile of other garments, surrounded the bankster's ones, and the laughter of the bystanders.—Tit-Bits.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive catarrh cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WAS A VALUABLE LEG.

The Jury Fixes Upon $7500 as the Value of Alexander McKillop's Amputated Limb.

Street Railway Company Must Pay Him that Sum Unless the Supreme Court Decides Otherwise.

Gagnon vs. White Case Proving to be Rather Sensational and Delights Court Spectators.

After being out all night the jury in Alexander McKillop's case brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $7500 about 10 o'clock this morning. The plaintiff asked $20,000 for the loss of his leg. A stay of thirty days was granted.

Mr. Tadson, the plaintiff's attorney, who was said by the News-Tribune this morning to have "roared for over an hour" yesterday, remarked that he might possibly have secured a verdict of twice this amount had he roared another hour. Judge Brown took up Judson D. Holmes against the City of Duluth as soon as the McKillop case went to the jury. The testimony was mainly of lawyers as to the value of Holmes' services in the fire commission case. All of the plaintiff's witnesses swore that the services were well worth $800 to $1000, the amount claimed; all of the defendant's attorneys swore they were worth $250 or $300, the amount paid by the city. The jury will begin to wrestle with the various legal opinions about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

In Julius F. Herman against the St. Louis Land Improvement company, the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff for $26,311 in Judge Lewis' division.

Before Judge Lewis the case of Rosalia Gagnon against Charles L. White is being tried. The plaintiff was on the stand yesterday afternoon and this morning. She is an intelligent and rather pretty girl and told her story clearly and with effect. She claims that White asked her to remain after the other employees left, and that he took her into the spice room and to the box where ground nutmeg was kept. He asked her if she had taken any of the spice and she replied that she did not; that she was an honest girl, Mr. White responded that he did not want to think otherwise of her. Then he laid his hand upon her shoulder, she alleges, and she screamed, whereupon he picked her up bodily and carried her to some coffee sacks and threw her down. Rosa says she tried to get out of the room, but the door was locked. Rosa's testimony completed the plaintiff's case.

The defendant called Emma Hizar and Maggie Daugherty to prove that spices had been missed and that Rosa had been seen at the nutmeg drawer playing with her bare arms in the ground spice.

White, who was called in his own behalf. He said he wanted to investigate to satisfy himself whether Rosa had taken spices so he asked her to remain that evening. In order that the other employees might not know what was up and Rosa's feelings be hurt he said he wanted to show her about some work. Rosa washed some dishes and filled and trimmed some lamps with White's assistance. Then White took her into the spice room and asked her why she had been in there. Rosa said she was only playing with the spice.

"It is strange you should select the most expensive spices to play in," said Mr. White. "Then I asked her about the other drawers, and she said, 'I am an honest girl' and then screamed."

"Describe her screams," requested Mr. Towne, who is trying Mr. White's case.

"She shrieked as loud as a maniac," responded Mr. White, promptly. "I first told her to stop; whether she heard me or not I don't know. I then took her by the arm and said 'stop.' She did not stop. Then I reached around and put my hand over her mouth and told her. I was not there to harm her. She went to the shipping room door. It was locked and I hadn't the key; never carried a key to that door. She demanded her pay and I told her to come to the office and get it. She wanted me to bring it to her. Finally she came to the office and got her pay."

Mr. White's examination was not finished when court adjourned for dinner. The case will probably be completed this afternoon. Rosa asks $5000 damages.

The grand jury yesterday brought in indictments against John B. Wilson, the man accused of stealing Trotman's horse, grand larceny, second degree, and William Taggart, who killed the horse at Mountain Iron.

Gen. M. D. Flower, of St. Paul, superintendent of the Twin City stockyards, was in the city yesterday.

A DECIDED FIASCO.
That is what the Much Talked Off Yacht Race proved to be.

The yacht race was started today, but proved to be very much of a fiasco. The day opened bright and with a good breeze, but during the forenoon it clouded up and shortly after the boats were off it began to rain. The starters were the Bessie Lee, entered by Fred Hartley, Siren, entered by E. C. Jones, and Rowena, entered by Campbell & Steele.

At 10 o'clock sharp the signal to be off was given. The Rowena took a slight lead and soon threw out her spinnaker. A moment later went the Siren's. They sailed down to where the buoy was supposed to be located. The Siren turned and went toward the Lakeside buoy, and the Rowena followed her.

Once that something was wrong with the Bessie Lee and this fact was confirmed when, as the Siren ran past the Nautilus, the latter turned and steamed toward the two. She took the Bessie Lee in tow and brought her into the harbor.

When she arrived, however, she was unhurt and had sustained no accident. Her crew explained that the buoy could not be found. The Rowena experienced the same trouble and they agreed to quit. The crews of both boats claim that the buoy was a mile out of place.

The Siren sailed over the course and finished a few moments before 2 o'clock. There will be another race today or next day and by that time the boys will be placed properly.

FILED A COMPLAINT.
Warrants sworn out against F. Kravenbuhl, John Clarke and W. B. Gregg.

In police court this morning three plain drunks and a couple of fellows charged with disorderly conduct received attention at the hands of Judge Winje. Peter Daily, charged with stealing a $5 coat from one Abrahamson, pleaded guilty and was sent up for fifteen days. C. E. Stover, representing the United States Accident Insurance company, today filed a complaint charging Frederick Kravenbuhl, John Clarke and W. B. Gregg with an attempt to defraud that company out of $5000 life insurance.

The Father Does Not Know.
The young son of Svend Olson died suddenly yesterday forenoon at 25 East Fifth street. Mr. Olson just two hours previously had left the house and started upon an exploration trip in the woods below Grand Marais to be gone 2 or 3 weeks. There is no means of reaching the father and informing him of his bereavement and the burial will have to take place without his presence.

The West Superior Fair.
The fair at West Superior opened yesterday in the Wemyss block, corner of Tower avenue and Thirteenth street and the first day was a great success. The display of vegetables is remarkable and it will pay every Duluthian to go over and see what the head of the lakes' soil can be made to produce. This evening will be the big one of the whole fair and a grand band concert will be given.

TRAIN ROBBERY

Mineral Range Train Between Calumet and Hancock, in Northern Michigan, Held Up This Morning.

Engineer and Fireman Covered by Revolvers While Two Other Highwaymen Robbed the Express Car.

The Messenger Was Compelled to Put the Contents of the Safe Into a Bag.

It Included $75,000 for the Calumet and Hecla Mine and the Robbers Fled With it.

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 15.—At 9:30 a. m. the passenger train on the Mineral Range railroad coming to Calumet was held up by four highwaymen at Highway about half way between Calumet and Hancock. The engineer and fireman were covered with revolvers by two of the robbers, while the other two ordered the American express messenger to put the contents of his safe in a bag which one of the robbers carried.

The messenger immediately complied and handed out some $75,000 consigned to the Calumet and Hecla mine and which was part of the money to be paid by the mine on its payroll. After securing the booty the robbers fired a shot and ordered the engineer to "go ahead"—and quick, which he did.

The whole affair was done so quickly that the passengers knew nothing of it. The train was crowded. Light guards and sheriffs are out scouring the country. It is thought that the robbers had horses conveniently near and a boat ready at the lake, from which place they would make for Northern Canada.

Arrested on Suspicion.

HANCOCK, Mich., Sept. 15.—Jack King, a wrestler, and Jack Kehoe, a sport, have been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the "hold up" of the Mineral Range train by Marshal Malperbe. Sheriff Bunn and posse have gone in pursuit of the bandits on a special train.

The robbery is not dissimilar in many respects from the Indiana "hold-up" a few days since, and the theory is entertained hereabout that the same men committed both deeds. They had ample time to make the trip from Kendallville to Hancock, and there is no good reason why they should not have done so.

No incriminating evidence was found upon the persons of Jack King and Jack Kehoe, arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the "hold-up," but there is nevertheless strong circumstantial proof of their guilt.

The authorities and the representatives of the mining company have been credibly informed of the facts which lead to the conclusion that if they were not personally engaged in the crime, they kept the real predators informed about the shipment of the large sum to be used by the mining company in paying off its employees. The Calumet & Hecla company will offer a large reward for the apprehension of the daring marauders.

John Chelliew has also been arrested on suspicion. Together with King and Kehoe, he drove out of town early this morning and the trio were seen returning from the region where the robbery occurred about 10:30, about the time the report of the "hold-up" reached here.

The train was stopped at Boston, a flag station. Two men boarded the engine, but the two who boarded the baggage car were not masked. The description given of the two latter almost tallies with those of Kehoe and Chelliew. The fourth man was quite a stout man and does not tally with any of the three now in custody.

Many posers are in pursuit, while the Lake Superior coast is being scoured by tugs and the life-saving crews. The $75,000 was all in currency and would have been paid to the miners tomorrow.

In Congress Today.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Some routine business having been disposed of the struggle over the federal election bill was resumed in the hour and the Republicans again resorted to filibustering tactics. The attendance was very small at the opening.

In the senate after the routine morning business the repeal bill was taken up and Mr. Lindsay (Democrat) addressed the senate.

City Officials' Shortages.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 15.—As a result of a careful investigation of their accounts, suit was filed yesterday against ex-Mayor John Loughran, ex-City Clerk William Shanahan and ex-City Treasurer B. D. Rapley and their sureties for the recovery of alleged shortages in their accounts with the city for the sum of $22,000. It is thought that criminal proceedings will follow the civil suit.

The Danger Past.

RUGBY, N. D., Sept. 15.—A heavy rain fell last night and the danger from prairie fires is over.

MEMBERS OF KEELEY LEAGUES.

Five Hundred Marched in Procession to the World's Fair.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Five hundred members of Keeley leagues representing every state in the Union, except Florida and South Carolina, marched behind Dr. and Mrs. Keeley this morning with their happy wives, sisters and daughters, all of whom wore league badges. The band of the old soldiers' home at Leavenworth, Kas., led the way and Andrew J. Smith, the governor, walked in line with the veterans from that home as well as the soldiers and sailors' home at Milwaukee.

The procession was divided by states and for each state there was displayed a banner of white and gold. The rendezvous of the graduates was the terminal station from which place they marched to the administration building, where words of welcome and encouragement were spoken by the director general.

Then the procession moved to the Illinois building, where the exercises were held. Twelve hundred delegates, representing 600 clubs of the league, were present, many of them being unable to reach the procession. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Keeley, Col. Nate Reed and other leaders in the league work.

A similar meeting was held in the assembly hall of the women's building. Addresses were delivered on "Work of the Keeley Rescue Department" by Kate Reed, of Chicago, and "Women in Keeley Rescue Work," by Elizabeth Lyle Saxon, of New Orleans.

TOWNS ARE WIPED OUT.

Junction City on the Wisconsin Central and Mill Creek Are Totally Destroyed By Fire.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Sept. 15.—A message to the superintendent of the Wisconsin Central railroad from Junction City, ten miles west of this city, where the Central crosses the Wisconsin Valley division of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, says the town is burning and will be totally destroyed. Mill Creek is said to have been wiped out of existence, and many farmers in the Black river district will be rendered homeless.

The city is surrounded by forest fires, though there is no immediate danger from them. The forests between here and Mosinee have been blazing for several days, and it is feared that many farmers in that territory will lose their crop and cattle, even if they are fortunate enough to escape with their lives.

TOWN OF WITHEE BURNING.

A Train Had a Narrow Escape From a Burning Bridge.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Sept. 15.—The town of Withee, forty miles east of here on the Central road, is burning, the destruction being caused by forest fires.

A company of the fire department has left for there this morning. The eastbound passenger train had a narrow escape from going through a burning bridge. The section men coming west on a handcar, turning a curve ran into the bridge and went through, injuring one man fatally. Another swam the river and flagged the train, which was a few minutes late.

The John S. Owen Lumber company's plant is also reported burned, but that report is denied by some. Trains are running via Eau Claire, Merrillan and Marshfield.

In the town of Bloomer farmers have been fighting the fires for two days. The wind is blowing forty miles an hour spreading fire in all directions. If rain does not fall soon nothing will be left.

A Mill Destroyed.

MERRILL, Wis., Sept. 15.—Forest fires are burning, fanned by heavy winds, on all sides of the city. The town is submerged in smoke. Many farmers have lost their mill. Swap's mill at Pine River has been destroyed.

Fighting Fire Three Days.

MARINETTE, Wis., Sept. 15.—Forest fires are raging to such an extent in Marinette county that considerable apprehension is felt for the safety of the several smaller towns, which are situated in the midst of the forest. Word has been received from Peshtigo, Wausau and other places that they have been fighting the fire with all their available means for the last three days.

FOR TWO MONTHS MORE.

Probability That the World's Fair Will Be Extended Until the Beginning of Next Year.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—After a conference with a number of foreign commissions, the World's fair directors have called a special meeting for next Monday night to discuss the feasibility of extending the exposition until January 1, 1894. It has been understood for some time among the managers of the fair that it would be kept open later than October 30, the time fixed by congress, if the attendance in the latter months seemed to justify such a move.

The heavy gate receipts and sudden increase in the regular daily crowds gave the directors encouragement enough to justify serious consideration of the project. The director general was consulted, and while he thought it impossible to make an extension for another year, he said it might pay to postpone the end until the 1st of January.

A number of the foreign commission-ers took the same view of the matter when it was presented to them. They said that while large numbers of exhibitors had been sold for delivery the close of the fair Oct. 30, it would be a comparatively easy matter to secure duplicates from the home establishments and maintain their sections in the fair for two months longer.

GOING TO GET LITTLE.

The Democratic Congressmen From Minnesota Are Faring Very Badly in the Matter of Appointments.

They Cannot Make any Headway With the People Who Are Exercising the Appointive Powers.

Possibly the Influence of Michael Doran May Have Something to do With This Failure.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—[Special to The Herald.]—It becomes more apparent every day that the Democratic representatives from the state of Minnesota are going to get very little at the hands of the present administration. Whether this is due entirely to the influence of Michael Doran or to a lack of perseverance on the part of the representatives to press their claims before the proper appointive powers is a matter of conjecture. The place hunters from Minnesota cannot understand how it is that Democratic congressmen from other states are having their political friends appointed right along not only to local offices but to positions outside the state as well.

It is true that during the past week Representative Hall has had a few pension examining surgeons appointed in his district, but this together with a few fourth class postmasters has been about all that he has done in securing offices for his constituents. Representative Baldwin has not accomplished as much as Mr. Hall, although he has apparently been doing a great deal of hustling about the appointment divisions of the various departments.

In the government printing office there are perhaps between 3000 and 4000 places not covered by any civil service rules and paying good salaries. Although the public printer is at present a Republican, his term not having yet expired, he recognizes the claims of Democratic congressmen and daily appointments of the faithful are being made from all parts of the country. So far as is known not a single pension has yet been appointed in this office under the present administration.

In connection with pension matters it is interesting to note the abuse partisan papers are heaping upon the pension commissioner. Notwithstanding the high character which this gentleman bore in his state and his reputation for honesty and justice before his appointment to this vexatious office, he is charged by newspapers, even in his own city, with the most dishonest motives and with treachery to his old comrades.

Even some rank partisans in that organization of which he has so long been an honored member, the Grand Army of the Republic, cannot let the opportunity to make good political capital go by, and make charges against him which every person acquainted with the facts knows are untrue. Meanwhile Judge Lochren is going on doing his duty as he sees it, and paying no attention to the clamor of his enemies are raising. It is safe to say that the pension commissioner's course is indorsed by the great mass of intelligent people in this country, who realize what a dangerous war this indiscriminate granting of pensions was becoming.

SIX SHOPLIFTERS CAUGHT.

Cincinnati Police Capture a Gang of Four Women and Two Men.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—The most desperate gang of shoplifters ever captured in Cincinnati was run in yesterday. It consists of four women and two men, who have been operating extensively here and elsewhere.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning, Louis Geisman, the landlord at 306 West Sixth street, was awakened by a noise on the ground floor, and he went below and was once confronted by four women and two men. They had been his tenants for several years. Each woman placed the muzzle of a revolver in his face and warned him to keep quiet.

The men went into the cellar and removed an immense quantity of goods, wrapped in large bundles. Geisman was then marched to his room, locked in, and men and women departed. The police were notified and found the gang at the depot as they were about to depart for Philadelphia. They were all arrested and the goods recovered.

They gave the names of Retta Kaschen, Mrs. Anna Waterman, Mrs. Lizzie Brodman and Mrs. Anna Winkler, Bernard Brodman and M. Starr, the latter saying he was a Chicago actor. The women are all young, handsome and nicely dressed. The recovered goods consisted of hundreds of suits of clothes, overcoats, silks, satins, laces, rugs and other valuable articles, which all await an owner.

CHARLESTON, S. C. Sept. 15.—A special to the News and Courier, from Beaufort says: The immediate suffering on the Sea Islands is being relieved. No serious sickness has been reported. The work of distribution seems to be well organized. The worst is perhaps over.

With the work of charity well systematized and a generous response from the people of the United States, there is no great cause for apprehension, but there must be a supply of food. ## GIVEN HIS EXPENSES.

Jury Allows J. D. Holmes the cost of a Trip to St. Paul for the City.

This Throws the Payment of Costs on the City—The Amount Paid Was Sufficient.

Case of Rosalia Gagnon vs. Charles L. White Was Given to the Jury This Morning.

Judson D. Holmes received at the hands of the jury a verdict for $29.10 in his suit against the city for further compensation in the matter of the attempted removal of the fire commissioners. Mr. Holmes asked $800 for his services and the city paid $300. The suit was to compel the payment of the other $500. The jury, it seems, after weighing the testimony of lawyers on both sides of the fence, concluded that $300 was sufficient for the legal services rendered. It came out in the evidence, however, that Mr. Holmes had not been reimbursed for his expenses to St. Paul when he argued the case in supreme court. Therefore the jury awarded him a verdict for the expenses, $29.10, which throws the cost on the city.

The case of Anna Morrison against Iver Olson is now on trial before Judge Brown. The defendant is a policeman who arrested Mrs. Morrison, she claims without cause or due process of law. She sues for $5000 damage and $25 expenses of medical treatment.

The case of Rosalia Gagnon against Charles L. White was given to the jury by Judge Lewis at 11 o'clock this morning after a full and clear charge as to the law in the matter. Rosa was not in court today, to the evident disappointment of a goodly number of spectators who seem to find very fascinating any cause that brings into court and on the witness stand a woman, particularly if that woman be young and pretty, and Rosa is both. There is a good deal of interest among lawyers as to the outcome of the case, and one or two court attaches were willing this morning to take small wagers on the amount of the verdict the plaintiff might receive.

Judge Lewis is engaged this afternoon with the trial of Michael McNeil, charged with the murder of a woman, against Abraham Mitchell, a suit brought to recover $15,000 alleged to be due as a commission on the sale of gold and nickel mining lands in natural form.

Andrew Larson was excused from jury duty today. He does not understand English readily and is unable to read or write.

F. J. Marsh was brought before Judge Lewis this morning on an attachment for contempt of court in failing to appear when summoned as a juror. Mr. Marsh had sent word that he was sick and later backed up his assertion by a physician's certificate, which was not, however, in proper form.

When the officers again looked for Mr. Marsh it was found that he had sufficiently recovered from his indisposition to go to Chicago. Mr. Marsh talked pretty plain to the delinquent citizen this morning and summing up said he would have a reasonable time in which to show by a deed and sworn certificate that from the time of the issuance of the summons he was physically unfit for jury duty, otherwise he would be considered in contempt and liable to a fine.

The officers have a similar attachment for A. C. Jamison, who is said to have gone to Chicago.

The grand jury yesterday afternoon returned indictments as follows: John Sirakaski, grand larceny second degree; Henry Paulsen, assault third degree; Leslie Pikkarainen, assault first degree. These were arraigned this morning and given until 9:30 a. m. tomorrow to plead as were also William Tager and John B. Wilson. The grand jury is in session this afternoon.

A jury was waived in J. M. Douglas against J. H. La Vaque.

Sold Cigarettes to Minors.
Gus Bowman and Andrew Zentoff this morning were fined $1 and costs, making a total of $3.50, for selling cigarettes to minors. Humane Officer Haskins worked up the case. Judge Wine also disposed of four plain drunks and one charge of vagrancy. Andrew Connell, charged with stealing nine pairs of underwear from Moses Cook, pleaded guilty and went up for twenty days.
